U.S. Scores Congo Killings

Adlai Tells UN To Probe Executions

Lumumba Leftists Blamed For Eleven Political Slayings

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson declared his "revulsion and shock" Friday at reports of 11 more political assassinations in the Congo. They were reported carried out this time by Lumumbist leftists in Oriental Province.

Taking notice of reports that Sen. Alphonse Songolo and about 10 other members of the Congo Parliament had been executed by the leftist regime of Antoine Gizenga in Stanleyville, the U.S. chief delegate said he will seek new Security Council action condemning political revenge killings.

He said he will consult with Asian-African nations on the move.

Songolo and the others, all political foes of the assassinated ex-premier Patrice Lumumba, were taken prisoner in Stanleyville weeks ago.

The Stevenson statement was issued as President Kennedy and Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies in Washington joined in pledging support to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hmmarskjold and in deploring attempts "to twist the tragic events in the Congo into an attack upon the United Nations."

Reports from Brussels told of a new blow by the Stanleyville rebel forces and an attempt to carve out a new state — loyal to the Leopoldville central regime—in secessionist Katanga Province.

The Belgian News Agency said forces of Gizenga entered Luluabourg, capital of Kasai Province. The Congolese army garrison at Luluabourg was said to have taken refuge at U.N. headquarters there.

This would give the rebels control of three provincial capitals—Stanleyville (Oriental), and Bukavu (Kivu) and Luluabourg (Kasai.)

The Belgian radio said Jason Sendwe, former central government commissioner for Katanga, announced the creation of the new state of Lulaba in northern Katanga, in an apparent move to take over for Leopoldville part of secessionist Moise Tshombe's province.

In another development, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic was said to have urged President Kennedy, British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Soviet Premier Khrushchev to keep hands off the Congo lest they touch off a war that would set all Africa ablaze.

A U.S. delegation spokesman here said the reports of the execution of Songolo and the others were not official, but that they were based on sufficient information to justify the Stevenson statement.

U.N. officials here and in Leopoldville have expressed fear the prisoners have been killed, but there has been no reply from the Gizenga regime to repeated U.N. inquiries about their fate.

"If confirmed, these executions are another tragic episode in the Congo," Stevenson said. "And such primitive barbarism can solve nothing in the long-term life of this new republic."

The U.S. move was seen as countering the Soviet campaign to harass Hammarskjold in efforts to implement a Congo peace plan approved by the council on Tuesday.

Stevenson recalled that Soviet vetoes killed his attempts in the council to broaden the resolution to condemn assassinations in Stanleyville as well as elsewhere in the Congo.

Stevenson said he planned to confer with delegates from the United Arab Republic, Ceylon and Liberia — original sponsors of the resolution — on "whether new steps should be taken now to condemn all political violence as suggested last week."

Menzies-JFK Pledge Dag Full Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Australia's Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies Friday joined in pledging support to U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold's efforts to bring peace to the Congo.

In a joint communique issued after a two-hour meeting at the White House, the U. S. and Australian chiefs said they "deplored current attempts to twist the tragic events in the Congo into an attack upon the United Natons itself."

The leaders also 1. backed the plan of Laotian King Savang Vathana to bring peace and neutrality to his troubled country; 2. agreed efforts for effective disarmament must be continued; 3. reaffirmed their backing for the Southeast Asia Treaty and Australia-New Zealand-U. S. (ANZUS pacts as "bulwarks for the maintenance of peace in the Pacific."

Kennedy, who personally escorted Menzies to his waiting limousine after the White House session, described their meeting as "very cordial and very satisfactory."

It was the first meeting between Kennedy and Menzies, who stopped off in Washington for a two-day layover en route to the British prime ministers' meeting in London.

JFK Asks Congress To End Gold Drain

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress Friday to help halt the overseas drain on U.S. gold and dollars by cutting from $500 to $100 the amount of duty-free goods that American travelers can bring back from abroad.

He also submitted a companion bill to exempt from U.S. taxes the interest received by foreign banks from U.S. government securities they hold on a non-commercial basis. The measure was designed to encourage the banks to buy U.S. securities rather than gold.

At the same time, the President sent the lawmakers two proposed bills to carry out plans in his health program for increasing training opportunities for physicians and dentists and to provide more and better medical facilities.

ASNE Asks Supreme Court To Reconsider Censorship Ruling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Society of Newspaper Editors ASNE Friday asked the U. S. Supreme Court to reconsider its recent ruling permitting motion picture censorship, claiming it did "violence" to the constitution.

The petition for rehearing was filed on behalf of the ASNE by Prof. Jacob Scher of Northwestern University's Medill School of Journalism. It was signed by Turner Catlege, president of the ASNE, for the organization's board of directors. Others entering into the petition were the Motion Picture Producers Association, National Association of Broadcasters and the Authors League of America.

The Supreme Court ruled 5-4 Jan. 23 that Chicago's movie licensing ordinance, in which a police censor reviews movies before they can be licensed for showing, was constitution.

The ASNE, entering as a "friend of the court," contended in its petition that the decision placed a "prior restraint on a first amendment activity."

"If such a restraint may be imposed on motion pictures it may well be extended to other forms of expression, such as newspapers, books and even speech," the petition said.

The ASNE said there is "no greater danger to democracy today than legal sanction that forces submission in advance of matter the public may see, hear or read to a political bureau, a propaganda ministry or police license board."

The petition said the ASNE "believes there is adequate remedy in the criminal law of obscenity for proper police action without doing violence to a First Amendment right."

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has renamed Friendship University, opened here last fall for students from Asia and Africa.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the school now will be known as "Patrice Lumumba Friendship of the Peoples University," after slair ex-Premier Lumumba of the Congo.

Frankie Carbo Denied Bail

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A federal judge Friday refused to grant freedom on bail to Frankie Carbo and three other men accused of trying to muscle in on a boxer's purse.

Carbo, described by the prosecution as the underworld boss of boxing, is on trial with Louis Tom Dragna and Joe Sica, both of Los Angeles; Philadelphia fight promoter Frank (Blinky) Palermo; and Truman Gibson Jr., one-time president of National Boxing Enterprises.

Gibson remains free on bail.

Federal prosecutor Alvin H. Goldstein said the alleged plot was "crude, blunt, brutal and direct." Goldstein said the defendants tried to muscle in on 15 per cent of the purse for former welterweight champion Don Jordan.

Three Die In Crash Of Light Plane

AIKEN, S.C. (AP) — A single-engine plane, believed to have come from Jacksonville, Fla., crashed in a field near here late Friday.

At least three persons were killed.

One of the dead was tentatively identified through papers on his body as Earl D. Taylor of Jacksonville.

At least two other bodies were trapped in the plane.

Dag Asks Aid Of International Court In Investigating Slaying Of Lumumba

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold decided Friday to ask the aid of the International Court of Justice in investigating the slaying of leftist Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba.

Hammarskjold told his 18-nation Congo advisory committee he would write "in a personal way" to seek the international tribunal's advice. It was hoped the Hague court might set up a thre-member panel to investigate Lumumba's death, and perhaps suggest a similar panel to try his killers, if they are found.

U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, concerned about reports of the execution of pro-Western members of the Congolese parliament in reprisal for Lumumba's death, said he would consult other members on new U.N. action.

In its third private meeting in as many days, Hammarskjold's advisory committee agreed upon a circular letter to African countries asking new contingents for the U.N force in the Congo.

The letter was to be addressed to all African U.N. members except South Africa, Libya, Togo, and the United Arab Republic. There was no immediate explanation for the omission of the latter three countries.

U.N. Controller Bruce R. Turner informed the advisory committee that the entire $48.5 million anticipated for military expenditures in the Congo from July 14 to Dec. 31 last year had been used. He said the anticipated expenditure of $8 million a month from Jan. 1 to March 31 also appeared certain to be exhausted, and that more financing might be necessary in view of the expanded mandate voted by the Security Council last week.

Explorer X Fails To Go Into Orbit

Satellite With Radio Brain Launched At Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Failure of the upper stages Friday night ruined an attempt to orbit a "radio brain" satellite designed to study the effects of the ionosphere on long range radio and television communication.

The 75-pound satellite and the three-stage upper assembly presumably plunged into the Atlantic Ocean. The satellite was to have been called Explorer X.

The 76-foot Juno II booster rocket blasted off to an apparently good start from this test center at 7:13 p.m. EST. Its mission was to eject the satellite into a cigar-shaped orbit ranging from 240 to 1,600 miles above the earth.

But 40 minutes after launch, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced:

"Project officials are unable to confirm firing of the upper stages of the Juno II booster."

The failure sets back U S plans for continuing a far-reaching study of the ionosphere, an electronically charged region which surrounds the earth.

The study started last November with the successful orbiting of Explorer VIII.

The ionosphere reflects radio waves back to earth and thus is vital to communications.

The previous satellite of this type, successfully launched last November, relayed information which enabled scientists to begin extensive mapping of the ionosphere. It measured positive ion and electron concentrations.

Unlike that explorer, the "radio brain" sent aloft Friday night carried no measuring instruments.

It contained only a single radio transmitter designed to bombard ground stations around the world with a steady stream of signals on six different frequencies of varying power.

Three Small Tots Drown

RUPERT, W. Va. (UPI)—Three small children, two brothers and a sister, drowned Friday in a deep flooded ditch alongside a rural road near this Greenbrier County community.

The victims were identified as Albert Jones Jr., 10, James Jones, 8, and Inez Jones, 7.

State Trooper R. B. Knadler said the children were wading through 14 inches to two feet of water that covered the road while on their way to school when one of them stepped off the side into water 8 to 10 feet deep.

Knadler said the other two apparently tried to save the drowning one and also perished in the rain swollen waters, backed up from the always-dangerous Meadow River.

A fourth Jones child witnessed the happening and ran home to tell the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones. The bodies were difficult to find due to the swift, muddy water. Two were about six hours after the first.

About 100 persons aided in the search.

Volcano Erupts On Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Halemaumau fire pit in the center of Kilauea Volcano began an eruption today on the big island of Hawaii.

An Aloha Air Line pilot reported the glowing fountain of lava rose at times to 150 feet.

Halemaumau (House of Everlasting Fire) gushed up the first white hot lava and clouds of smoke at 7:30 a.m.

The lava broke through the crust in the northeast corner of the fire pit, which is two miles in circumference.

First reports were that erupted matter was falling inside the fire pit.

Third Iowa Bank Hit By Shortage

Suicide Note By President Admits Theft

ELDON JOB

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (UPI) — A shortage of "several hundred thousand dollars" was found Friday in the Community National Bank and Trust Co. and long-time bank President Eldon L. Job hanged himself on an attic stairway after leaving a note confessing the embezzlement.

The shortage was the third reported in Iowa in six weeks and Job, a church board member and three times president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the second bank official to commit suicide after audits turned up the deficits.

Largest of the three bank shortages was the embezzlement of about $2 million by Mrs. Burnice Geiger at the Sheldon National Bank.

Job left two notes confessing his thievery and telling a son where his body could be found. A few hours earlier he had been host to a church organization meeting at his home.

Authorities said Job, 59, looped a small rope twice around his neck, tied the other end of the rope to a stairway railing in a vacant house, then stepped or jumped off the stairs.

Officials here refused to pinpoint the exact amoung of the shortage but Hollis Haggard, deputy comptroller of the currency, said in Washington that it amounted to "several hundred thousand dollars."

Directors of the bank, one of two owned and operated by Job and his two sons in this south-central Iowa farm community of 7,817 persons, said an examiner told them the deficit was "substantially less" than the $1 million fidelity bond held by the institution.

Directors said the bank was "continuing business as usual" and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Washington said it appeared the bank would not be forced to close.

"Mr. Job accomplished the embezzlement by himself," bank examiner E. W. Morgan said.

Morgan said it appeared that "everything we found occurred in 1960 and 1961."

"If there was any shortage before that it was covered up by the 1960 and 1961 embezzlements," he said.

The examiner said a routine examination of the Community National began Monday and "we encountered apparent irregularities Tuesday." He said examiners began asking Job "some very specific questions."

The questioning was intensified Wednesday and Thursday, Morgan said, and "Job knew he would have to have final answers by today."

But Job did not show up Friday at the bank.

War Clouds Still Hang Over Laos

King's Peace Plan Not Acceptable

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The government said Friday hostile leftist reaction to King Savang Vathana's peace plan "could have grave consequences" for its policy of reconciliation with the rebels.

An announcement issued after a special Cabinet meeting presided over by pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum did not enlarge upon what the consequences might be.

Government forces and leftist rebels in the central plain area supposedly are preparing to take the offensive. But aside from some guerrilla activity, the front was quiet Friday.

The king proposed Sunday that Laos steer a neutral course under the eye of a commission sent by Malaya, Cambodia and Burma. Since the king, traditionally above politics, exercises a strong hold on his country, government circles hoped his proposal would help break the present deadlock.

Shock and concern were created in Vientiane, therefore, by denunciation of the king's plan from ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma and his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao that controls a large area of Laos.

Souvanna, who arrived earlier this week in rebel territory from self-exile in Cambodia, called the proposal "facetious and devoid of any practical value."

The Pathet Lao radio termed the plan an imperialist-inspired move to turn Laos into a U. S. colony.

Taxing People Like Shearing Sheep

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Rep. Stoyan Christowe, R-Dover, outlined his philosophy on taxation Friday.

"Taxing people is like shearing sheep," he said. "You want to take all the wool you can but you have to be careful of the skin. You can nip a sheep every year but you can only skin him once."

State Funds For Nursing Homes Proposed In Senate

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A bill to spend $1.5 million of state money for construction of non-profit nursing homes got little opposition Friday when it was taken up by the Finance Committe of the Maryland Senate.

The proposal, submitted for the third time by the Department of Health, would create a state fund to be used over five years in supplementing federal grants and local money.

Construction cost of each home would be shared equally by the federal government, the State and any community, hospital or other non-profit organization qualified for help under the law.

The Health Department would establish a priority list and the money would go first to sponsors in areas where the nursing home need is greatest.

The funds would be used primarily to provide facilities for welfare and low-income patients.

The Maryland Nursing Home Association, which has opposed the proposal in other years, did not attempt to block it Friday but did suggest two amendments.

An association spokesman said the bill should spell out that the homes will not be segregated and that a certain percentage of patients will be welfare recipients.

The Finance Committee also heard testimony supporting a bill, passed by the House, to increase the appropriation to the State Commission on the Aging from $25,000 to $37,500.

Del. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery, said the money is needed because the commission is losing a $15,000 federal grant it had to prepare for the White House Conference on Aging. She said the money is needed to help set up county branches.

Hodges Says 100 Cities Need US Aid

Tells House Group Many Rural Areas Must Have Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges pledged Friday that if the job of reviving depressed areas is given to his department — something organized labor opposes — he will not let it become a "boondoggling," or make work, operation.

Urging swift action on President Kennedy's $390-million depressed areas program, Hodges told a House Banking subcommittee more than 100 city areas and an as-yet undetermined number of rural sections must have federal help in curing persistent unemployment.

Supporting Kennedy's proposals, Hodges sought to quiet concern lest industries be pulled away from some economically healthy areas in the course of pumping life into ailing regions.

Hodges was leadoff witness as the banking group began hearings on the depressed areas proposal — one of those near the top of Kennedy's priority list of anti-recession measures.

He backed the proposed loans and grants to encourage industrial growth as the best approach for spurring the recovery of chronically depressed regions. It is "better at least to try this kind of thing than just to hand out a dole," the Cabinet officer suggested.

Without listing them, Hodges said, that as of January a total of 103 areas — 20 major and 83 smaller ones — were struggling with "substantial and persistent unemployment."

"We must add to this the rural areas of unemployment whose exact number and location have not yet been determined," the commerce chief said.

The Kennedy program would:

— Establish a $300-million fund for loans to help start new industries in depressed areas by financing in part the acquisition of land and buildings, machinery and equipment and other for loans to help start new industries in depressed areas by financing in part the acquisition of land and buildings, machinery and equipment and other measures.

— Provide $75 million in federal grants for installing public facilities — water systems, for example — to support such industries.

— Make available $10 million a year to help jobless workers learn new skills, and $4.5 million a year to help communitie plan for improved economic development.

Castro Moves Guevara Into Cabinet Post

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro moved economic czar Ernesto Guevara into his Cabinet as chief of a new superministry of industry and reshuffled other posts to tighten state control over all phases of Cuban economic life.

Guevara, an Argentine-born leftist who fought in the hills with Castro, was given broad powers Friday to reorganize and develop this island nation's industrial life along lines some sources here reported were drafted by Cuban and Communist experts last year in Czechoslovakia.

State control was extended to all sports activities through the creation of an institute of sports, physical education and recreation. Mayor Jose Llanusa of Havana, who recently returned from a tour behind the Iron Curtain, was named director.

The Cuban Cabinet, in a long session extending into the early morning hours, also named Raul Ceprero Bonilla, former minister of commerce, as chief of the National Bank.

The victims were identified as Albert Jones Jr., 10, James Jones, 8, and Inez Jones, 7.

State Trooper R. B. Knadler said the children were wading through 14 inches to two feet of water that covered the road while on their way to school when one of them stepped off the side into water 8 to 10 feet deep.

Knadler said the other two apparently tried to save the drowning one and also perished in the rain swollen waters, backed up from the always-dangerous Meadow River.

A fourth Jones child witnessed the happening and ran home to tell the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones. The bodies were difficult to find due to the swift, muddy water. Two were about six hours after the first.

About 100 persons aided in the search.

Volcano Erupts On Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Halemaumau fire pit in the center of Kilauea Volcano began an eruption today on the big island of Hawaii.

An Aloha Air Line pilot reported the glowing fountain of lava rose at times to 150 feet.

Halemaumau (House of Everlasting Fire) gushed up the first white hot lava and clouds of smoke at 7:30 a.m.

The lava broke through the crust in the northeast corner of the fire pit, which is two miles in circumference.

First reports were that erupted matter was falling inside the fire pit.

Third Iowa Bank Hit By Shortage

Suicide Note By President Admits Theft

KNOXVILLE, Iowa (UPI) — A shortage of "several hundred thousand dollars" was found Friday in the Community National Bank and Trust Co. and long-time bank President Eldon L. Job hanged himself on an attic stairway after leaving a note confessing the embezzlement.

ELDON JOB

The shortage was the third reported in Iowa in six weeks and Job, a church board member and three times president of the Chamber of Commerce, was the second bank official to commit suicide after audits turned up the deficits.

Largest of the three bank shortages was the embezzlement of about $2 million by Mrs. Burnice Geiger at the Sheldon National Bank.

Job left two notes confessing his thievery and telling a son where his body could be found. A few hours earlier he had been host to a church organization meeting at his home.

Authorities said Job, 59, looped a small rope twice around his neck, tied the other end of the rope to a stairway railing in a vacant house, then stepped or jumped off the stairs.

Officials here refused to pinpoint the exact amoung of the shortage but Hollis Haggard, deputy comptroller of the currency, said in Washington that it amounted to "several hundred thousand dollars."

Directors of the bank, one of two owned and operated by Job and his two sons in this south-central Iowa farm community of 7,817 persons, said an examiner told them the deficit was "substantially less" than the $1 million fidelity bond held by the institution.

Directors said the bank was "continuing business as usual" and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Washington said it appeared the bank would not be forced to close.

"Mr. Job accomplished the embezzlement by himself," bank examiner E. W. Morgan said.

Morgan said it appeared that "everything we found occurred in 1960 and 1961."

"If there was any shortage before that it was covered up by the 1960 and 1961 embezzlements," he said.

The examiner said a routine examination of the Community National began Monday and "we encountered apparent irregularities Tuesday." He said examiners began asking Job "some very specific questions."

The questioning was intensified Wednesday and Thursday, Morgan said, and "Job knew he would have to have final answers by today."

King's Peace Plan Not Acceptable

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The government said Friday hostile leftist reaction to King Savang Vathana's peace plan "could have grave consequences" for its policy of reconciliation with the rebels.

An announcement issued after a special Cabinet meeting presided over by pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum did not enlarge upon what the consequences might be.

Government forces and leftist rebels in the central plain area supposedly are preparing to take the offensive. But aside from some guerrilla activity, the front was quiet Friday.

Shock and concern were created in Vientiane, therefore, by denunciation of the king's plan from ex-Premier Souvanna Phouma and his half-brother Prince Souphanouvong, leader of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao that controls a large area of Laos.

Souvanna, who arrived earlier this week in rebel territory from self-exile in Cambodia, called the proposal "facetious and devoid of any practical value."

The Pathet Lao radio termed the plan an imperialist-inspired move to turn Laos into a U. S. colony.

Taxing People Like Shearing Sheep

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—Rep. Stoyan Christowe, R-Dover, outlined his philosophy on taxation Friday.

"Taxing people is like shearing sheep," he said. "You want to take all the wool you can but you have to be careful of the skin. You can nip a sheep every year but you can only skin him once."

State Funds For Nursing Homes Proposed In Senate

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A bill to spend $1.5 million of state money for construction of non-profit nursing homes got little opposition Friday when it was taken up by the Finance Committe of the Maryland Senate.

The proposal, submitted for the third time by the Department of Health, would create a state fund to be used over five years in supplementing federal grants and local money.

Construction cost of each home would be shared equally by the federal government, the State and any community, hospital or other non-profit organization qualified for help under the law.

The Health Department would establish a priority list and the money would go first to sponsors in areas where the nursing home need is greatest.

The funds would be used primarily to provide facilities for welfare and low-income patients.

The Maryland Nursing Home Association, which has opposed the proposal in other years, did not attempt to block it Friday but did suggest two amendments.

An association spokesman said the bill should spell out that the homes will not be segregated and that a certain percentage of patients will be welfare recipients.

The Finance Committee also heard testimony supporting a bill, passed by the House, to increase the appropriation to the State Commission on the Aging from $25,000 to $37,500.

Del. Margaret Schweinhaut, D-Montgomery, said the money is needed because the commission is losing a $15,000 federal grant it had to prepare for the White House Conference on Aging. She said the money is needed to help set up county branches.

Hodges Says 100 Cities Need US Aid

Tells House Group Many Rural Areas Must Have Help

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges pledged Friday that if the job of reviving depressed areas is given to his department — something organized labor opposes — he will not let it become a "boondoggling," or make work, operation.

Urging swift action on President Kennedy's $390-million depressed areas program, Hodges told a House Banking subcommittee more than 100 city areas and an as-yet undetermined number of rural sections must have federal help in curing persistent unemployment.

Supporting Kennedy's proposals, Hodges sought to quiet concern lest industries be pulled away from some economically healthy areas in the course of pumping life into ailing regions.

Hodges was leadoff witness as the banking group began hearings on the depressed areas proposal — one of those near the top of Kennedy's priority list of anti-recession measures.

He backed the proposed loans and grants to encourage industrial growth as the best approach for spurring the recovery of chronically depressed regions. It is "better at least to try this kind of thing than just to hand out a dole," the Cabinet officer suggested.

Without listing them, Hodges said that as of January a total of 103 areas — 20 major and 83 smaller ones — were struggling with "substantial and persistent unemployment."

"We must add to this the rural areas of unemployment whose exact number and location have not yet been determined," the commerce chief said.

The Kennedy program would:

— Establish a $300-million fund for loans to help start new industries in depressed areas by financing in part the acquisition of land and buildings, machinery and equipment and other for loans to help start new industries in depressed areas by financing in part the acquisition of land and buildings, machinery and equipment and other measures.

— Provide $75 million in federal grants for installing public facilities — water systems, for example — to support such industries.

— Make available $10 million a year to help jobless workers learn new skills, and $4.5 million a year to help communitie plan for improved economic development.

Castro Moves Guevara Into Cabinet Post

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro moved economic czar Ernesto Guevara into his Cabinet as chief of a new superministry of industry and reshuffled other posts to tighten state control over all phases of Cuban economic life.

Guevara, an Argentine-born leftist who fought in the hills with Castro, was given broad powers Friday to reorganize and develop this island nation's industrial life along lines some sources here reported were drafted by Cuban and Communist experts last year in Czechoslovakia.

State control was extended to all sports activities through the creation of an institute of sports, physical education and recreation. Mayor Jose Llanusa of Havana, who recently returned from a tour behind the Iron Curtain, was named director.

The Cuban Cabinet, in a long session extending into the early morning hours, also named Raul Ceprero Bonilla, former minister of commerce, as chief of the National Bank.

Boy Arraigned For Murdering His Mother

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—John Josept Davis II, 18-year-old high school senior accused of stabbing his mother to death, Friday waived a preliminary hearing in magistrate's court and was ordered held for the grand jury.

Davis appeared calm at his arraignment before Magistrate Irving M. Einbinder.

Sheriff Charles Price said the youth apparently stabbed his mother after she criticized a homework assignment he was doing Wednesday night. The boy's father, an unemployed aircraft plant worker, and a younger brother were at a Boy Scout meeting at the time.

Drought Kills Kenya's Rhinos

LONDON (AP)—The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals sent 200 pounds—$560—to help save rhinoceroses dying of thirst. The money went to Col. Mervyn Cowie of Nairobi, director of Kenya's national parks. Many rhinos in Tsavo Park have died in a drought, the society said.

Martin Firm Earnings Climb

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The Martin Co. of Baltimore Friday reported 1960 earnings of $16,854,540 on sales of $651,227,929—both up from 1959.

Earnings equaled $5.43 per share of common stock, compared with $4.34 in 1959, and sales rosed 24.3 per cent above the $523,707,022 reported a year ago.

The company said income after provisions for federal taxes compared with $13,336,981 for 1959, an increase of 26.4 per cent.

The report was released in Orlando, where Martin has a manufacturing division and its board met today.

The board also declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share, payable March 27 to stockholders of record March 6. Taking into account the company's recent 2-for-1 stock split, this maintains the increased dividend rate adopted last December, when it was raised from 40 to 50 cents.

Germans Climb Peak

MENDOZA, Argentina (AP)—A German expedition has reached the top of 22,835-foot Mt. Aconcagua in the Andes, the Argentine army press service reported Friday. The summit was reached Feb. 17. The peak was first climbed in 1897.

Rep. Lankford Cites Need For Army Funds

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Rep. Richard E. Lankford, D-Md., a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said Friday the Army should be given $2.5 billion to hasten modernization during 1962.

Lankford, who spoke at a luncheon here, said the Army would need at least $1 billion in extra funds to reduce the time lag between development of a weapon and its availability in large quantities for troop use.

"If funding is slow," Lankford said, "the troops will have older and less effective equipment."

The congressman said special attention should be given to speedy production of the M60 heavy tank, the M113 armored personnel carrier, the Sergeant solid-fuel missile with nuclear capacity, and the M14 rifle. Changeover to these new weapons should be accomplished all at one time, Lankford asserted.

FBI Captures Club Artist

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—The FBI says a Florida man who admitted passing bad checks in 10 states told agents he even cashed one with the signature "U.R. Struck."

He was identified as Ronald Delano Bradford, 25, of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Bradford, arrested Thursday, was quoted by the FBI as saying he usually used the signature "O. E. Grant" on the checks, written on a Daytona Beach bank. Authorities estimated he had cashed $18,000 worth of checks in 10 states.

He admitted cashing checks in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and the Carolinas, the FBI said.

Bradford was held in jail here in lieu of $10,000 bond on federal charges of interstate transportation of tools to prepare fraudulent securities.

Five Dead As Damage From Flood Soars

Army Engineers Predict Worst In Twentieth Century

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI) — At least five persons were dead and property damage soared into the million Friday from one of the worst floods to hit Mississippi and Alabama during the 20th Century.

"This will be a big one," a spokesman for the Army engineers at Mobile, Ala., said.

Hattiesburg, Quitman and Enterprise in southeastern Mississippi and Montgomery, Selma and Demopolis in Alabama were the hardest hit areas. Flood conditions improved Friday in some other southern states.

Tornadoes skipped through Georgia, South Carolina and Alabama Friday night adding to the already extensive damage. A tornado touched down near Phenix City, Ala., disrupting power and injuring at least two persons.

Two struck near Pinehurst, Lizella, Milledgeville, McBean and Danville, Ga., late Friday but caused no injuries. Property damage was believed to be extensive, however.

Two house trailers were overturned at Jackson, S.C., when a tornado skipped across the Georgia border. At least one person was seriously injured.

Thousands were homeless and many highways were closed.

The Hattiesburg area, with three deaths and 5,000 washed out of their homes, was experiencing its worst flood since 1919.

"But we are in pretty good shape right now," Mayor Richard Carlisle said.

A major shortage in Hattiesburg, a town of 30,000 population, was diapers. Mothers couldn't get the available supply dried fast enough.

High school girls, college students and merchants pitched in for duty at refugee centers. A number of refugees had to be isolated to prevent spreading of mumps and measles.

National Guardsmen reported little trouble in removing most residents to safety but one elderly man, perched atop his roof, pointed a rifle at guardsmen and warned "I ain't leaving."

Northeast of Hattiesburg, the rain-swollen Chickasawhay river was warned that flooding in the Enterprise-Shubuta area along the river would not be "the kind they'll be able to ride out."

Rivers in the central and south Alabama were up to 27 feet above flood stage.

Flood waters forced deer and wild turkey out of their native habitats and game wardens were alerted to prevent unsportsmanlike hunting.

Washington Co. Proposes More Liberal Liquor Law

HAGERSTOWN (AP)—Washington County's liquor board has asked its delegation in the Maryland Legislature to relax restrictions on the sale of alcoholic beverages and to increase license fees.

Board Chairman Allen Heller said the delegation had been requested to ease restrictions on Sunday sales, now limited to clubs, so that cocktails could be served in eating places during certain hours.

Heller said the board also asked for revisions on liquor laws governing the sale of beer at grocery stores for off-premise consumption and in bowling alleys.

The chairman said the board also is seeking authority to issue a special $100-a-day license for the Hagerstown Fair Association to replace the overall $500 license now issued to the association.

Under the board's proposals, license fees would be increased in some cases by 100 per cent or more.

RECOUNTS WHITE HOUSE EXPERIENCES — Mrs. Lillian Rogers Parks, a White House maid for 30 years recounts her experiences in a book to be released Monday, entitled "My Thirty Years Backstage at the White House." Former White House Maid Publishes Her Memoirs

Probably The Last Work Of Its Kind

NEW YORK (AP) — White House maids of the future may have to keep mum about their experiences, but a veteran of the past has plenty to say.

Lillian Rogers Parks says it in a book to be published Feb. 27. Advance copies were released just a day after the White House announced that, at the suggestion of chief usher J. Bernard West, domestic personnel pledged to refrain from publishing memoirs hereafter.

Among other things in her book, Mrs. Parks related:

Mrs. Harry S. Truman was the most considerate First Lady in decades.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was quick to fire servants if they angered her.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower had a hot temper but never fired anyone.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover kept the White House in the most turmoil, because she could never make up her mind how she wanted things arranged.

Household servants never knew what to expect next—whether to hide out or to be seen going about their duties.

Mrs. Parks' book is entitled "My Thirty Years Backstage at the White House." It recounts her experiences as well as those of her mother, who also spent 30 years as a maid at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

She spiced the book with many amusing and embarrassing incidents—such as the pregnant woman who showed up at the White House and claimed Hoover was the father of her unborn child.

As for the presidents, she said:

Roosevelt had great wealth and gave the impression of much generosity, but was a penny-pincher. He also was "very sensitive to the feelings of others, a quality that made him most kind to the help."

Hoover didn't want servants to be seen or heard. The servants had to dodge into closets. But when FDR arrived on the scene he "gave the order to stop this and 'just act natural.'" Truman was "the most insistent that we be at ease."

Eisenhower made no effort to know all the staff by name, as Truman and Roosevelt did. And he had such a temper his wife lived in fear he could "burst out at the wrong time."

Among other observations, Mrs. Parks wrote that Mrs. Roosevelt considered the White House to belong to all the people and that they should be made to feel so, whereas Mrs. Eisenhower considered that it belonged to her and her husband.

Mayor Of Kensington Must Give Up His Office

KENSINGTON, Md. (AP)—The mayor of Kensington has been ordered by the Montgomery County Circuit Court to give up his office. The court said he took his oath of office in the wrong place.

As a result, A. Victor Gentilini, elected in June, must now turn the reins of power over to the former mayor, Dr. Richard F. Mehring, whom he had defeated.

Judge Patrick M. Schnautier ruled that Gentilini had neglected to take the oath of office from the circuit court clerk, as required by the Maryland constitution and state law. Instead, he took an oath before a Kensington notary public June 27, 1960.

Mehring had advised Gentilini where to take the proper oath but, the judge said, Gentilini appeared before the circuit court clerk Aug. 8 only after his qualifications had been publicly questioned. By then it was too late, the judge ruled, noting a 39-day limit on the taking of oath after an election.

The circuit court action was a result of a suit filed by Mehring against Gentilini and two councilmen, Charles M. Hersh and Courtland K T.ownsend.

The judge ruled that Hersh and Townsend should be allowed to continue in office even though their oath was administered by Gentilini. There was no negligence or neglect on their part, the decision stated.

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt was quick to fire servants if they angered her.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower had a hot temper but never fired anyone.

Mrs. Herbert Hoover kept the White House in the most turmoil, because she could never make up her mind how she wanted things arranged.

Household servants never knew what to expect next—whether to hide out or to be seen going about their duties.

Mrs. Parks' book is entitled "My Thirty Years Backstage at the White House." It recounts her experiences as well as those of her mother, who also spent 30 years as a maid at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave.

She spiced the book with many amusing and embarrassing incidents—such as the pregnant woman who showed up at the White House and claimed Hoover was the father of her unborn child.

As for the presidents, she said:

Roosevelt had great wealth and gave the impression of much generosity, but was a penny-pincher. He also was "very sensitive to the feelings of others, a quality that made him most kind to the help."

Hoover didn't want servants to be seen or heard. The servants had to dodge into closets. But when FDR arrived on the scene he "gave the order to stop this and 'just act natural.' " Truman was "the most insistent that we be at ease."

Eisenhower made no effort to know all the staff by name, as Truman and Roosevelt did. And he had such a temper his wife lived in fear he could "burst out at the wrong time."

Among other observations, Mrs. Parks wrote that Mrs. Roosevelt considered the White House to belong to all the people and that they should be made to feel so, whereas Mrs. Eisenhower considered that it belonged to her and her husband.

Accused Of Arson

BALTIMORE (AP)—Wayne E. Brown, 44, was placed under $5,000 bail in nearby Reisterstown police court Friday on an arson charge resulting from a blaze which yesterday Thursday damaged the eating place he owns, the Fireplace Diner.

Mayor Of Kensington Must Give Up His Office

KENSINGTON, Md. (AP)—The mayor of Kensington has been ordered by the Montgomery County Circuit Court to give up his office. The court said he took his oath of office in the wrong place.

As a result, A. Victor Gentilini, elected in June, must now turn the reins of power over to the former mayor, Dr. Richard F. Mehring, whom he had defeated.

Judge Patrick M. Schnautier ruled that Gentilini had neglected to take the oath of office from the circuit court clerk, as required by the Maryland constitution and state law. Instead, he took an oath before a Kensington notary public June 27, 1960.

Mehring had advised Gentilini where to take the proper oath but, the judge said, Gentilini appeared before the circuit court clerk Aug. 8 only after his qualifications had been publicly questioned. By then it was too late, the judge ruled, noting a 39-day limit on the taking of oath after an election.

The circuit court action was a result of a suit filed by Mehring against Gentilini and two councilmen, Charles M. Hersh and Courtland K Townsend.

The judge ruled that Hersh and Townsend should be allowed to continue in office even though their oath was administered by Gentilini. There was no negligence or neglect on their part, the decision stated.

Walter N. Hedrick, a spokesman for the three-community group, said an election is being planned in the near future.

Hiring Of Clerk Aired By Board

A continuation of the disagreement which started last Tuesday among members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners over selection of a temporary clerk in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday ended with no decision in the mater.

Commissioner John T. Mason, who had suggested a worker at Tuesday's session, today commented that both Commissioners John J. Rowan and William A. Wilson had objected because the person was not picked from the eligible list of the Civil Service Board.

He showed the two commissioners a listing of 118 county employes hired over the past two years. "There are 42 names on this list who were not hired through the Civil Service procedure of taking them from an eligible list," Mason said.

Commissioner Wilson inquired if at the time these persons were hired there were any lists of eligible persons for a specific job. Mason said he did not know exactly. Wilson agreed that someone is needed on a temporary basis at the court but the party should be picked from a list of eligibles.

There were some opposing viewpoints given by the commissioners and Rowan at one point said "someone will have to be selected under the Civil Service procedure and that ends the discussion as far as I am concerned."

County Snow Plow Work Gets Praised

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners received a letter yesterday from Mrs. Lawrence Mallory, Lower Town Creek Road, thanking the board for snow removal work. She also requested that some ice which had been forced onto the road a few days ago from Town Creek be removed.

James Campbell and Dale Campbell, Slabtown, appeared before the board to ask for repairs to a road in that community. They were told to contact the Roads Department to see if the roadway was in the county system. In the event it is not a county road there may be a possibility of the county providing some crusher run stone to fill "pot holes".

Student Is Hurt In Auto Crash

A student of Potomac State College, Keyser, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital there Monday with injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Fort Ashby.

Admitted was Sue Eckenrode, 18, who is reported in "good" condition by attaches. She suffered abrasions of the forehead and a possible fracture of the right hand.

Miss Eckenrode was a passenger in a car operated by Leonard Eckenrode, Catonsville, who escaped injury when his car skidded on the highway and crashed into a bridge at Fort Ashby.

Surplus Food Urged By County Residents

Letters and cards were received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday from 48 individuals who said they are in need and would like the board to resume the surplus food distribution program.

A petition containing the names of 82 persons residing in Jane Frazier Village, with a listing of how many persons were in each family, was also received by the board. They said they are in need of the surplus food.

Magistrate Court Site Is Changed

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has authorized the magistrates in Frostburg Trial Magistrates Court to rent a store room on Main Street for the new quarters of the court.

Present quarters on the second floor of the Frostburg National Bank must be vacated by next Wednesday as the bank is expanding its bookkeeping and other departments and needs the space, according to a notice received by the commissioners several weeks ago.

The new court quarters will be in the former Parise store room and rental will be $45 per month.

The commissioners also awarded the contract to the Queen City Electric Company to furnish 18 fluorescent lighting fixtures in the County Welfare Offices in the old Cumberland Street school building.

Cost of the lighting fixtures and panels and switches will be $2,028 for the lights and installation and $430 for the panels and switches and installation. A total of $508 of this amount will be set aside in the levy for the next fiscal year as the funds on hand are not enough to cover the entire project.

Bus Plan Opposed

A letter was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from Rev. Paul R. O'Brien, pastor of Union Grove Methodist Church, opposing any spending of county funds to provide school bus service to parochial schools.

Walsh Discusses Journey To China, Visit With Bishop

The Allegany County Bar Association last night heard William C. Walsh, local attorney, tell of his trip last year to Red China to visit his brother, Bishop James Walsh, who is imprisoned by the Communist nation.

In a short question and answer period after his talk Walsh discussed some phases of his observations of the people of China, although he pointed out that during his short stay in that country he could not ascertain too many details of their mode of life.

William H. Geppert presided at the session and John Sullivan read the minutes of the last meeting and gave several announcements of meetings of several committees.

Doub Is New Member Of Baltimore Firm

George Cochran Doub, who resigned on Wednesday as assistant U.S attorney general in charge of the civil division of the Justice Department, has become associated with the law firm of Weinberg and Green, Baltimore, as its counsel.

Doub, native of Cumberland and brother of Albert A. Doub, local attorney, was appointed to his federal post on April 25, 1956.

Prior to that he was U.S. attorney for Maryland, having been named August 12, 1953. From 1940 to 1953 he was a partner in the firm of Marshall, Carey and Doub, Baltimore, and from 1934 to 1940 was a partner in the firm of Parker, Carey and Doub.

He was general attorney for the Western Maryland Railway from 1930 to 1934.

Local Youth Advances To Life Scout

Richard Paulman, president of the newly-organized Explorer Post 44, sponsored by Centre Street Methodist Church, was advanced to the rank of Life Scout at a recent Court of Honor.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Paulman, LaVale, he started in scouting with Cub Pack 10 and advanced to the "Webeloes," the highest rank of cubs, before becoming a member of Boy Scout Troop 4.

Paulman holds the God and Country award and served as troop scribe and senior patrol leader prior to the organization of the Explorer Post.

Also advanced at the Court of Honor were John Durst, Douglas Swisher and Alex Butts, all to Star Scout. Merit badges were presented to Durst, for reading and citizenship in the home; to Swisher, for first aid and fishing; Daniel McCullough, first aid, and to Donald Bradfield, citizenship in the home.

The court, conducted by J. Paul Fisher, advancement chairman of Troop 4, was held following the annual covered dish dinner of the troop's parent group.

The program was arranged by Scoutmaster George Scarlett and Eugene Pyle, assistant scoutmaster, and included skits and a film of the 1960 National Jamboree.

The number of telephones used by New Hampshire farmers has increased nearly 15 per cent since 1949.

Motions Filed In Court Are Overruled By Judge

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley has overruled motions filed by the defense attorneys following the jury's decision in Garrett County Circuit Court in the Loch Lynn train-school bus damage case.

The jury in November awarded over $45,000 to Sandra Jean Patton and Mary Jane Lee, who were injured in the mishap September 10, 1959.

The attorneys for the defendants, the B&O Railroad and Leroy Campbell, the bus driver, filed motions for a new trial or judgements not withstanding the verdict after the case ended November 3.

Miss Patton was granted $25,000 by the jury and Miss Lee, $22,500. Each received an additional $700 for medical expenses that had been incurred.

The awards were to be paid equally by the bus driver and the railroad.

The decision will stand unless the defense attorneys file an appeal with the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The Patton and Lee suits are the first of a number that were filed. The two girls were among the 11 children injured when the eastbound Diplomat hit the bus at the Loch Lynn crossing. Seven children were killed.

Property Owners Seek Road Action

Three property owners were sent notices by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners concerning the procedure for having roads taken into the county system. This provides that right of ways, surfacing work to specifications at the property owners expense and other matters have to be complied with before any action is taken.

The property owners who inquired about the procedure are Jack Williams, Oakland Drive in Johnson Addition off Bedford Road; Vernon Cost, B Street in LaVale; and Donald C. Liller, of Rawlings.

The County Health Department also informed the board that a complaint of a property owner in Potomac Park that sludge from a septic tank had been flushed onto her property had been checked.

The responsible person had been notified to clean up the sludge from the adjoining property and on his own property within five days.

UHF Fund Drive Being Conducted

A campaign is being conducted in LaVale, Corriganville and Ellerslie for contributions to the community UHF system from those getting the signals who have not previously donated.

So far, $9,750 has been collected in the three areas and given to the Frostburg Community Television Company, which operates a translator for the high frequency signals on Dan's Rock.

Contributions are being received in LaVale at the Liberty Trust Company branch, Dom's Market and by Mrs. George Dressman; in Corriganville at the fire hall; in Ellerslie at Warren Lohr's barbershop and by G. Allan Cook, and at Palo Alto by Orlando Shaffer.

Walter N. Hedrick, a spokesman for the three-community group, said an election is being planned in the near future.

In 1900, about 18 per cent of the people of the United States lived outside their native states while 50 years later about 43 per cent lived outside their native states.

Hiring Of Clerk Aired By Board

A continuation of the disagreement which started last Tuesday among members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners over selection of a temporary clerk in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday ended with no decision in the mater.

Commissioner John T. Mason, who had suggested a worker at Tuesday's session, today commented that both Commissioners John J. Rowan and William A. Wilson had objected because the person was not picked from the eligible list of the Civil Service Board.

He showed the two commissioners a listing of 118 county employes hired over the past two years. "There are 42 names on this list who were not hired through the Civil Service procedure of taking them from an eligible list," Mason said.

Commissioner Wilson inquired if at the time these persons were hired there were any lists of eligible persons for a specific job. Mason said he did not know exactly. Wilson agreed that someone is needed on a temporary basis at the court but the party should be picked from a list of eligibles.

There were some opposing viewpoints given by the commissioners and Rowan at one point said "someone will have to be selected under the Civil Service procedure and that ends the discussion as far as I am concerned."

County Snow Plow Work Gets Praised

The Board of Allegany County Commissioners received a letter yesterday from Mrs. Lawrence Mallory, Lower Town Creek Road, thanking the board for snow removal work. She also requested that some ice which had been forced onto the road a few days ago from Town Creek be removed.

James Campbell and Dale Campbell, Slabtown, appeared before the board to ask for repairs to a road in that community. They were told to contact the Roads Department to see if the roadway was in the county system. In the event it is not a county road there may be a possibility of the county providing some crusher run stone to fill "pot holes".

Student Is Hurt In Auto Crash

A student of Potomac State College, Keyser, was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital there Monday with injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Fort Ashby.

Admitted was Sue Eckenrode, 18, who is reported in "good" condition by attaches. She suffered abrasions of the forehead and a possible fracture of the right hand.

Miss Eckenrode was a passenger in a car operated by Leonard Eckenrode, Catonsville, who escaped injury when his car skidded on the highway and crashed into a bridge at Fort Ashby.

Surplus Food Urged By County Residents

Letters and cards were received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday from 48 individuals who said they are in need and would like the board to resume the surplus food distribution program.

A petition containing the names of 82 persons residing in Jane Frazier Village, with a listing of how many persons were in each family, was also received by the board. They said they are in need of the surplus food.

Magistrate Court Site Is Changed

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners has authorized the magistrates in Frostburg Trial Magistrates Court to rent a store room on Main Street for the new quarters of the court.

Present quarters on the second floor of the Frostburg National Bank must be vacated by next Wednesday as the bank is expanding its bookkeeping and other departments and needs the space, according to a notice received by the commissioners several weeks ago.

The new court quarters will be in the former Parise store room and rental will be $45 per month.

The commissioners also awarded the contract to the Queen City Electric Company to furnish 18 fluorescent lighting fixtures in the County Welfare Offices in the old Cumberland Street school building.

Cost of the lighting fixtures and panels and switches will be $2,028 for the lights and installation and $430 for the panels and switches and installation. A total of $508 of this amount will be set aside in the levy for the next fiscal year as the funds on hand are not enough to cover the entire project.

Bus Plan Opposed

A letter was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from Rev. Paul R. O'Brien, pastor of Union Grove Methodist Church, opposing any spending of county funds to provide school bus service to parochial schools.

Walsh Discusses Journey To China, Visit With Bishop

The Allegany County Bar Association last night heard William C. Walsh, local attorney, tell of his trip last year to Red China to visit his brother, Bishop James Walsh, who is imprisoned by the Communist nation.

In a short question and answer period after his talk Walsh discussed some phases of his observations of the people of China, although he pointed out that during his short stay in that country he could not ascertain too many details of their mode of life.

William H. Geppert presided at the session and John Sullivan read the minutes of the last meeting and gave several announcements of meetings of several committees.

Local Youth Advances To Life Scout

Richard Paulman, president of the newly-organized Explorer Post 44, sponsored by Centre Street Methodist Church, was advanced to the rank of Life Scout at a recent Court of Honor.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Paulman, LaVale, he started in scouting with Cub Pack 10 and advanced to the "Webeloes," the highest rank of cubs, before becoming a member of Boy Scout Troop 4.

Paulman holds the God and Country award and served as troop scribe and senior patrol leader prior to the organization of the Explorer Post.

Merit badges were presented to Durst, for reading and citizenship in the home; to Swisher, for first aid and fishing; Daniel McCullough, first aid, and to Donald Bradfield, citizenship in the home.

The court, conducted by J. Paul Fisher, advancement chairman of Troop 4, was held following the annual covered dish dinner of the troop's parent group.

The program was arranged by Scoutmaster George Scarlett and Eugene Pyle, assistant scoutmaster, and included skits and a film of the 1960 National Jamboree.

The number of telephones used by New Hampshire farmers has increased nearly 15 per cent since 1949.

Motions Filed In Court Are Overruled By Judge

Associate Judge Neil C. Fraley has overruled motions filed by the defense attorneys following the jury's decision in Garrett County Circuit Court in the Loch Lynn train-school bus damage case.

The jury in November awarded over $45,000 to Sandra Jean Patton and Mary Jane Lee, who were injured in the mishap September 10, 1959.

The attorneys for the defendants, the B&O Railroad and Leroy Campbell, the bus driver, filed motions for a new trial or judgements not withstanding the verdict after the case ended November 3.

Miss Patton was granted $25,000 by the jury and Miss Lee, $22,500. Each received an additional $700 for medical expenses that had been incurred.

The awards were to be paid equally by the bus driver and the railroad.

The decision will stand unless the defense attorneys file an appeal with the Maryland Court of Appeals.

The Patton and Lee suits are the first of a number that were filed. The two girls were among the 11 children injured when the eastbound Diplomat hit the bus at the Loch Lynn crossing. Seven children were killed.

Property Owners Seek Road Action

Three property owners were sent notices by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners concerning the procedure for having roads taken into the county system. This provides that right of ways, surfacing work to specifications at the property owners expense and other matters have to be complied with before any action is taken.

The property owners who inquired about the procedure are Jack Williams, Oakland Drive in Johnson Addition off Bedford Road; Vernon Cost, B Street in LaVale; and Donald C. Liller, of Rawlings.

The County Health Department also informed the board that a complaint of a property owner in Potomac Park that sludge from a septic tank had been flushed onto her property had been checked.

The responsible person had been notified to clean up the sludge from the adjoining property and on his own property within five days.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Please—Keep In Touch!

Does it take a lot of time, a great deal of effort and expense to "keep in touch" with someone who is close to your heart? A lot of people think so... mistakenly. It's really up to the ladies to show how easy it can be... to teach their husbands and children, their reltatives and friends that thought and thoughtfulness can be delivered for as little as the cost of a postage stamp... and the three minutes it would take to fill in the blanks.

Work most on that husband who believes that a letter from a daughter-in-law, dear as she is, means the same to his mother as an occasional short note from her son.

The one advantage of physical contact over mental telepathy, is that it almost always prompts an answer. Why not be the inspirer? It doesn't have to be much. Time is limited for everyone. And everyone knows it. Perhaps that's the reason why letter-writing tapers off so soon after people move long distances from one another. The things they have in common are no longer so apparent, so immediate. They no longer share the same neighbors, the same friends, the same church, the same parties. They think there is "nothing to tell" anymore. Why even the weather is different!

Alas, when they do get around to "catching up"— in ten pages that exhaust the writer and the reader enough to hold them back for six months!!—what do they write about first? The weather. Now, if anyone wants to read about the weather in Colorado, all he has to do is read the evening news... or an almanac.

Keeping in touch can take less than ten pages... and can be so much more than a weather report. It can be a snapshot tucked into an envelope with just a line written on the back: Doesn't this picture of our girls remind you of us when we were little?"

It can be the formula for a new cake, scribbled on a postcard: "Even 200 miles shouldn't stop us from trading recipes!" It might be a newspaper cartoon that evokes a smiling memory you can share... or a crossword puzzle or clipping that recalls a special hobby or interest.

No time, no time! Then, time yourself! Be economical... but never stingy when it's time to give of yourself. No phone call need last an hour. And must a "visit" be a prolonged kaffeklatsch....or an overcrowded party contrived to salve a conscience. Not unless you've let your hospitality and your attentiveness to others lapse for MUCH too long a time, just like your letter-writing.

At times, I wish we could revive two gracious old customs —calling cards and one afternoon a week "at home" — to receive friendship.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A kid in my room has been pulling something I don't like. Five or six guys get on the bus to go home together. This kid has a system that works about half the time. He doesn't buy a bus card and walks through fast. When the driver stops him he pretends he can't find his card. Sometimes the driver says "O. K. Kid, go on—" but usually he has come up with a dime. He never has a dime so he borrows one from me.

He owes me 70c. I hate to say no because it's embarrassing to get thrown off a bus. But it burns me to see him eating ice cream bars when he owes me money. Mom says to write to you. — NO BANKER

DEAR NO BANKER: Tell the chiseler to start to pay you back tomorrow. If he doesn't know that paying his debts is more important than ice cream bars, then tell him.

Also make it plain that he shouldn't get on the bus again unless he has a bus card or a dime. In a sense you've supported his cheating by bailing him out when the gimmick failed to work.

DEAR ANN: I'm 46 years old and have always had good health and lots of pep. For the past eight months I've been dragging around not sick and not well.

I find myself barking at my husband and looking for hidden meaning whenever anyone talks to me. I know I'm cranky and short-tempered. This just isn't like me.

Our children are on their own and we have no financial worries. I should be happy as a sparrow but I'm in the dumps for no reason at all.

Do you think those happiness pills would help? They are for sale without prescription so they must be harmless.

Please give me some help in a hurry. I'm — IN THE DUMPS

DEAR IN THE DUMPS: Your age indicates you are probobly going through the menopause. The help you need is not in a drugstore, it's in your doctor's office.

The "Don't Give a Darn" pills should be taken only on the advice of a physician. Rat poison can be purchased without a prescription, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Most of the girls in my crowd get to do as they please but my folks want to keep me a baby forever. I am 13 years old and mature for my age mentally and physically. Please stick up for me before I have a nervous breakdown.

My parents say I can't go out with the opposite sex, not even to an early movie on a Friday or Saturday night. The movies here start at 7:10 and even a double feature would get me home by midnight. I'm not fast, in fact my reputation is as good as any girl in this town. Please help me to get more freedom. I sure do need it.— BIG BROWN EYES

DEAR EYES: You're thirteen and you want to go with "the opposite sex" and stay out till midnight— you call that "not fast?" Sorry, Toots, but I think your speedometer needs fixing.

I'm with your parents on this, and I hope to heaven you don't succeed in beating them down as so many other 13-year-olds have done.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROCKHEAD: After 15 years you'll never turn a night owl into a homing pigeon. Since you have no children why don't you nap during the day and go with him?

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Please—Keep In Touch!

Does it take a lot of time, a great deal of effort and expense to "keep in touch" with someone who is close to your heart? A lot of people think so... mistakenly. It's really up to the ladies to show how easy it can be... to teach their husbands and children, their reltatives and friends that thought and thoughtfulness can be delivered for as little as the cost of a postage stamp... and the three minutes it would take to fill in the blanks.

Work most on that husband who believes that a letter from a daughter-in-law, dear as she is, means the same to his mother as an occasional short note from her son.

The one advantage of physical contact over mental telepathy, is that it almost always prompts an answer. Why not be the inspirer? It doesn't have to be much. Time is limited for everyone. And everyone knows it. Perhaps that's the reason why letter-writing tapers off so soon after people move long distances from one another. The things they have in common are no longer so apparent, so immediate. They no longer share the same neighbors, the same friends, the same church, the same parties. They think there is "nothing to tell" anymore. Why even the weather is different!

Alas, when they do get around to "catching up"— in ten pages that exhaust the writer and the reader enough to hold them back for six months!!—what do they write about first? The weather. Now, if anyone wants to read about the weather in Colorado, all he has to do is read the evening news... or an almanac.

Keeping in touch can take less than ten pages.. and can be so much more than a weather report. It can be a snapshot tucked into an envelope with just a line written on the back: Doesn't this picture of our girls remind you of us when we were little?"

It can be the formula for a new cake, scribbled on a postcard: "Even 200 miles shouldn't stop us from trading recipes!" It might be a newspaper cartoon that evokes a smiling memory you can share... or a crossword puzzle or clipping that recalls a special hobby or interest.

No time, no time! Then, time yourself! Be economical... but never stingy when it's time to give of yourself. No phone call need last an hour. And must a "visit" be a prolonged kaffeklatsch....or an overcrowded party contrived to salve a conscience. Not unless you've let your hospitality and your attentiveness to others lapse for MUCH too long a time, just like your letter-writing.

At times, I wish we could revive two gracious old customs —calling cards and one afternoon a week "at home" — to receive friendship.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A kid in my room has been pulling something I don't like. Five or six guys get on the bus to go home together. This kid has a system that works about half the time. He doesn't buy a bus card and walks through fast. When the driver stops him he pretends he can't find his card. Sometimes the driver says "O. K. Kid, go on—" but usually he has come up with a dime. He never has a dime so he borrows one from me.

He owes me 70c. I hate to say no because it's embarrassing to get thrown off a bus. But it burns me to see him eating ice cream bars when he owes me money. Mom says to write to you. — NO BANKER

DEAR NO BANKER: Tell the chiseler to start to pay you back tomorrow. If he doesn't know that paying his debts is more important than ice cream bars, then tell him.

Also make it plain that he shouldn't get on the bus again unless he has a bus card or a dime. In a sense you've supported his cheating by bailing him out when the gimmick failed to work.

DEAR ANN: I'm 46 years old and have always had good health and lots of pep. For the past eight months I've been dragging around not sick and not well.

I find myself barking at my husband and looking for hidden meaning whenever anyone talks to me. I know I'm cranky and short-tempered. This just isn't like me.

Our children are on their own and we have no financial worries. I should be happy as a sparrow but I'm in the dumps for no reason at all.

Do you think those happiness pills would help? They are for sale without prescription so they must be harmless.

Please give me some help in a hurry. I'm — IN THE DUMPS

DEAR IN THE DUMPS: Your age indicates you are probobly going through the menopause. The help you need is not in a drugstore, it's in your doctor's office.

The "Don't Give a Darn" pills should be taken only on the advice of a physician. Rat poison can be purchased without a prescription, too.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Most of the girls in my crowd get to do as they please but my folks want to keep me a baby forever. I am 13 years old and mature for my age mentally and physically. Please stick up for me before I have a nervous breakdown.

My parents say I can't go out with the opposite sex, not even to an early movie on a Friday or Saturday night. The movies here start at 7:10 and even a double feature would get me home by midnight. I'm not fast, in fact my reputation is as good as any girl in this town. Please help me to get more freedom. I sure do need it.— BIG BROWN EYES

DEAR EYES: You're thirteen and you want to go with "the opposite sex" and stay out till midnight— you call that "not fast?" Sorry, Toots, but I think your speedometer needs fixing.

I'm with your parents on this, and I hope to heaven you don't succeed in beating them down as so many other 13-year-olds have done.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ROCKHEAD: After 15 years you'll never turn a night owl into a homing pigeon. Since you have no children why don't you nap during the day and go with him?

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Long-Time Educator Has Major Role In Developing Inter-Religious Sessions

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Americans, who in the past generally have nurtured their religious differences and antagonisms behind closed doors, today are talking about them openly together—and with zest.

The man responsible for stirring up much of the animated conversation is Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, a tall, Lincolnesque figure with a knack for getting diverse elements to sit down around the same table.

"We've got to learn to talk with each other," he said. "It's the only alternative in our pluralistic society to divisiveness and discrimination. With discussion comes understanding, and with understanding comes mutual respect."

A long-time prominent educator, Dr. Jones is president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, sponsor of the current "Brotherhood Week," which runs through Sunday.

He has played a major role in developing what has become known as the "dialogue" among the nation's religiously heterogeneous citizenry—Protestant, Jewish, Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic.

"The idea is spreading all over the country, and throughout all the different groups," he said. "It's a typical pattern. They're coming together to get to know each other, to get some civility into their relationships."

Inter-religious sessions, in which both clergymen and laymen of various faiths explore each other's views, the reasons for them, and seek means of resolving community friction, now are being held regularly in more than 50 cities.

It's a new departure. Until two years ago, not more than a half dozen operations of this kind were going steadily. As Dr. Jones sees it, a lot more such activity is needed to clear the air of benighted prejudice.

Under normal circumstances, the average person knows little of any religious position but his own. He has small chance to learn, except by hearsay. The subject is taboo in public schools. Parochial schools stress their side of it.

"We've been cut off in our separate religious communities without much communication between them," Dr. Jones said. The result has been suspicions, mutual misconceptions, bigotry, fear, at times even hate.

"It's a form of emotional and mental sickness," he said. And the cause? "Misinformation, ignorance."

"Once people actually get to know each other, the hostilities diminish. I see it every day. I've seen it happen in one session. I've seen people change their whole attitude in just one session."

Dr. Jones, 61, a deliberative, Nebraska-born Episcopalian, formerly was president of Rutgers University, of Vermont's Bennington College, and of the University of Arkansas, when it led the South in first admitting Negro students.

A noted economist, he also has served widely as a labor mediator, and as a consultant or member of various government agencies and civic associations.

ASK—SEEK KNOCK

Everyone knows that success comes not to those whe merely desire it, but to those who achieve it through long, hard work.

It is odd then, that in the spiritual area of life some people should expect blessings to come for the asking.

Those who really understand PRAYER know that it's more than mere asking. It is seeking. It is the hungry search for truth and moral enlightenment . . . digging for spiritual gold in the hills of life.

But PRAYER is something more even than seeking. It is knocking . . . meeting life's obstacles bravely . . . waiting with patient determination until closed doors open . . . entering portals that the more timid pass by.

We wouldn't really need churches if spiritual growth came for the asking. But we do need churches to help us seek the treasures of God. And through our churches, with the united strength of millions of Christians, we knock on the portals of the more abundant life—and there find it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Long-Time Educator Has Major Role In Developing Inter-Religious Sessions

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Americans, who in the past generally have nurtured their religious differences and antagonisms behind closed doors, today are talking about them openly together—and with zest.

The man responsible for stirring up much of the animated conversation is Dr. Lewis Webster Jones, a tall, Lincolnesque figure with a knack for getting diverse elements to sit down around the same table.

"We've got to learn to talk with each other," he said. "It's the only alternative in our pluralistic society to divisiveness and discrimination. With discussion comes understanding, and with understanding comes mutual respect."

A long-time prominent educator, Dr. Jones is president of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, sponsor of the current "Brotherhood Week," which runs through Sunday.

He has played a major role in developing what has become known as the "dialogue" among the nation's religiously heterogeneous citizenry—Protestant, Jewish, Eastern Orthodox and Roman Catholic.

"The idea is spreading all over the country, and throughout all the different groups," he said. "It's a typical pattern. They're coming together to get to know each other, to get some civility into their relationships."

Inter-religious sessions, in which both clergymen and laymen of various faiths explore each other's views, the reasons for them, and seek means of resolving community friction, now are being held regularly in more than 50 cities.

It's a new departure. Until two years ago, not more than a half dozen operations of this kind were going steadily. As Dr. Jones sees it, a lot more such activity is needed to clear the air of benighted prejudice.

Under normal circumstances, the average person knows little of any religious position but his own. He has small chance to learn, except by hearsay. The subject is taboo in public schools. Parochial schools stress their side of it.

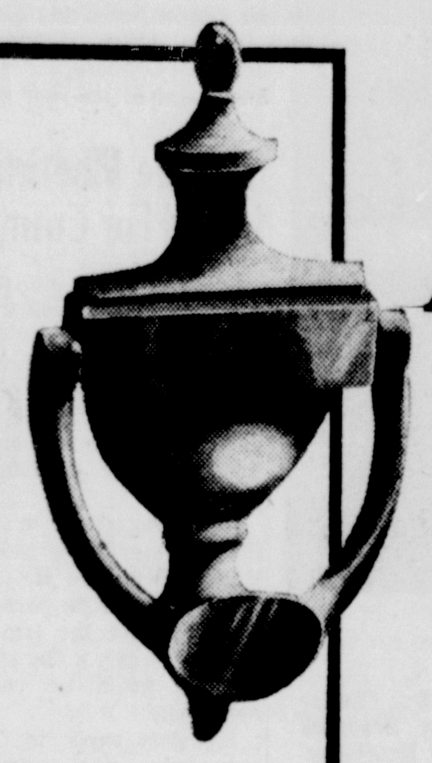
"We've been cut off in our separate religious communities without much communication between them," Dr. Jones said. The result has been suspicions, mutual misconceptions, bigotry, fear, at times even hate.

"It's a form of emotional and mental sickness," he said. And the cause? "Misinformation, ignorance."

"Once people actually get to know each other, the hostilities diminish. I see it every day. I've seen it happen in one session. I've seen people change their whole attitude in just one session."

Dr. Jones, 61, a deliberative, Nebraska-born Episcopalian, formerly was president of Rutgers University, of Vermont's Bennington College, and of the University of Arkansas, when it led the South in first admitting Negro students.

A noted economist, he also has served widely as a labor mediator, and as a consultant or member of various government agencies and civic associations.



ASK—SEEK

KNOCK

Everyone knows that success comes not to those whe merely desire it, but to those who achieve it through long, hard work.

It is odd then, that in the spiritual area of life some people should expect blessings to come for the asking.

Those who really understand PRAYER know that it's more than mere asking. It is seeking. It is the hungry search for truth and moral enlightenment . . . digging for spiritual gold in the hills of life.

But PRAYER is something more even than seeking. It is knocking . . . meeting life's obstacles bravely . . . waiting with patient determination until closed doors open . . . entering portals that the more timid pass by.

We wouldn't really need churches if spiritual growth came for the asking. But we do need churches to help us seek the treasures of God. And through our churches, with the united strength of millions of Christians, we knock on the portals of the more abundant life—and there find it.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—I'm so glad that "Gigot," the tragic story of a deaf mute, has been activated again by Warner Bros., and that Gene Kelly will direct Jackie Gleason who plays the title role. Jackie wanted Gene to direct him because not only is Gene competent, but he knows the Paris backgrounds. Gene leaves Sunday for Paris to scout locations.

Seven Arts and producer Ken Hyman made the deal to sign Gene. Jackie is currently in "The Hustler" with Paul Newman and Piper Laurie. He'll be just great as the deaf mute because he's such a fine pantomimist.

That six-year-old China - doll, Ginny Tiu, completely took over Washington and so charmed confirmed bachelor Speaker "Mr. Sam" Rayburn that he invited her to be his guest at a session in the House. Then, not to show partiality, she accepted the bid of Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington to give the Senate a whirl.

But where Ginny really killed 'em was when she was the guest of honor at the National Press Club and sat down at the piano! There hasn't been such a commotion over a piano player since President Truman obliged with "Missouri Waltz." Unfortunately when Ginny was escorted through the White House her juvenile contemporary, Caroline Kennedy, was still weekending in Virginia.

Accompanied by a tall beautiful girl, Brian Donlevy stopped by my table at Au Petit Jean, to introduce me. I couldn't have been more surprised when he said, "This young beauty is my daughter, Judy, and we're celebrating her 18th birthday." He's entering her at Santa Barbara College.

Brian himself looked very well, and said he was leaving for Yakima, Wash., where he will appear in "The Andersonville Story."

"Who's it for?" I asked him.

"For Judy and me," he laughed. "I'm making it for our company—she's my partner."

A party both children and adults will remember was the one Lita and Rory Calhoun gave daughter Cindy to celebrate her fourth birthday. The children were dressed in Spanish costumes. Cindy and her sister Tammy wore white lace mantillas bought while the Calhouns were in Spain. There was a roller coaster (Cindy's birthday present), a big carousel, and grab-bags.

Two flamenco dancers from Casa Madrid entertained and Bruce Morgan (Yvonne de Carlo's son) danced right along with them. The Bob Stacks' children Elizabeth and Charles, Arlene Dahl's son, Lorenzo Lamas wearing a fake mustache, the Guy Madison's three girls, the Dean Martins' young Gina, Aissa Wayne (John's pride and joy), the Keenan Wynn's two daughters—about 30 in all—loved every minute of it. Debbie Reynolds' Carrie and Todd sent regrets because Todd came down with the flu.

The changes Jose Ferrer wanted in "The Chapman Report" were made by Dick Zanuck—so Jose remains on as director of my unfavorite story. There are still more changes coming up — Dick tells me.

He says the movie will be so snow white that Janet Leigh, who turned down the part of Naomi in the original script, has now agreed to play the gal, an off-beat venture for her. Shelley Winters was set some time ago for Sarah, the erring wife.

Says Richard, "You won't be ashamed of me when you see the picture. Scriptwriter Ron Alexander is taking out more and more of the smut before we start shooting."

With money so very tight, especially for investing in Broadway shows (which are folding one after another), Sharman Douglas, daughter of former Ambassador Lewis Douglas, has hit on a new gimmick.

She has invited a number of top producers and other money people to her home to hear auditions of a musical she wants to do in New York in the fall. She'll present "Tahiti" and "And So To Bed" and, well, if her guests are interested, the financial backing will be taken care of.

Also probated recently was the will of Mrs. Margaret C. Hetzel, who was an 81-year-old resident of 224 Baltimore Avenue, when she died February 12. Sewage Meeting Urged For County

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday replied to a letter from James R. McComas, chief of the division of sanitary engineering of the State Department of Health concerning a meeting on sewage problems in the county.

Clark suggested to McComas that the meeting be held here instead of Baltimore. He pointed out that several dozen persons would have to make the trip to Baltimore while only a few state health officials would be required to come here.

McComas wrote to Clark several weeks ago suggesting the session so that some matters of procedure and other problems could be worked out pending the start of sewage disposal facilities in certain areas.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—I'm so glad that "Gigot," the tragic story of a deaf mute, has been activated again by Warner Bros., and that Gene Kelly will direct Jackie Gleason who plays the title role. Jackie wanted Gene to direct him because not only is Gene competent, but he knows the Paris backgrounds. Gene leaves Sunday for Paris to scout locations.

Seven Arts and producer Ken Hyman made the deal to sign Gene. Jackie is currently in "The Hustler" with Paul Newman and Piper Laurie. He'll be just great as the deaf mute because he's such a fine pantomimist.

That six-year-old China - doll, Ginny Tiu, completely took over Washington and so charmed confirmed bachelor Speaker "Mr. Sam" Rayburn that he invited her to be his guest at a session in the House. Then, not to show partiality, she accepted the bid of Sen. Warren Magnuson of Washington to give the Senate a whirl.

But where Ginny really killed 'em was when she was the guest of honor at the National Press Club and sat down at the piano! There hasn't been such a commotion over a piano player since President Truman obliged with "Missouri Waltz." Unfortunately when Ginny was escorted through the White House her juvenile contemporary, Caroline Kennedy, was still weekending in Virginia.

Accompanied by a tall beautiful girl, Brian Donlevy stopped by my table at Au Petit Jean, to introduce me. I couldn't have been more surprised when he said, "This young beauty is my daughter, Judy, and we're celebrating her 18th birthday." He's entering her at Santa Barbara College.

Brian himself looked very well, and said he was leaving for Yakima, Wash., where he will appear in "The Andersonville Story."

"Who's it for?" I asked him.

"For Judy and me," he laughed. "I'm making it for our company—she's my partner."

A party both children and adults will remember was the one Lita and Rory Calhoun gave daughter Cindy to celebrate her fourth birthday. The children were dressed in Spanish costumes. Cindy and her sister Tammy wore white lace mantillas bought while the Calhouns were in Spain. There was a roller coaster (Cindy's birthday present), a big carousel, and grab-bags.

Two flamenco dancers from Casa Madrid entertained and Bruce Morgan (Yvonne de Carlo's son) danced right along with them. The Bob Stacks' children Elizabeth and Charles, Arlene Dahl's son, Lorenzo Lamas wearing a fake mustache, the Guy Madison's three girls, the Dean Martins' young Gina, Aissa Wayne (John's pride and joy), the Keenan Wynn's two daughters—about 30 in all—loved every minute of it. Debbie Reynolds' Carrie and Todd sent regrets because Todd came down with the flu.

The changes Jose Ferrer wanted in "The Chapman Report" were made by Dick Zanuck—so Jose remains on as director of my unfavorite story. There are still more changes coming up — Dick tells me.

He says the movie will be so snow white that Janet Leigh, who turned down the part of Naomi in the original script, has now agreed to play the gal, an off-beat venture for her. Shelley Winters was set some time ago for Sarah, the erring wife.

Says Richard, "You won't be ashamed of me when you see the picture. Scriptwriter Ron Alexander is taking out more and more of the smut before we start shooting."

With money so very tight, especially for investing in Broadway shows (which are folding one after another), Sharman Douglas, daughter of former Ambassador Lewis Douglas, has hit on a new gimmick.

She has invited a number of top producers and other money people to her home to hear auditions of a musical she wants to do in New York in the fall. She'll present "Tahiti" and "And So To Bed" and, well, if her guests are interested, the financial backing will be taken care of.

Also probated recently was the will of Mrs. Margaret C. Hetzel, who was an 81-year-old resident of 224 Baltimore Avenue, when she died February 12. Executrices of the estate are the Liberty Trust Company and her son, Frederick Z. Hetzel, 3625 Yuma Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. They qualified under a $1,000 bond. Sewage Meeting Urged For County

Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, yesterday replied to a letter from James R. McComas, chief of the division of sanitary engineering of the State Department of Health concerning a meeting on sewage problems in the county.

Clark suggested to McComas that the meeting be held here instead of Baltimore. He pointed out that several dozen persons would have to make the trip to Baltimore while only a few state health officials would be required to come here.

McComas wrote to Clark several weeks ago suggesting the session so that some matters of procedure and other problems could be worked out pending the start of sewage disposal facilities in certain areas.

Minimum Wage: Law And Myth

Raising wages by fiat got its start back in the 1930s when there was some conceivable depression need of minimum standards. The rate—which continued in effect until after World War II—was 40 cents an hour.

There is less to be said, however, for the current proposal to hoist the federal figure to $1.25 per hour from the present $1 per hour. Its stated aim is to do away with an "underpaid class" by adding 25 cents per hour to minimum pay.

This theoretically would stuff more spending money into consumer pockets and set off a prosperity rocket into the wild blue yonder. Some practical considerations are ignored, one of which is that employers generally are in a cost-cutting phase. The principal cost for most of them is wages.

Instead of touching off a boom, it would be more likely to end in a job reduction trend, particularly in the retail field. Wages are fixed in the final analysis by the state of the general economy and the profit sheets of employers.

And, as the Wall Street Journal says, if there is anything to ordering wages by law, why be a piker? If $1.25 an hour is good for the country, why wouldn't $2 an hour be much better?

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Nation Of Islam

This country is getting as full of cults as the pomegranate has seeds. During the pro-Lumumba rioting which occurred in the United Nations, one of these cults, the Nation of Islam, appeared. This was organized in Detroit in the early 1930s by W. D. Fard, an ex-convict. Fard's leadership was taken over by a Georgia-born Negro named Elijah Poole who changed his name to Elijah Muhammad. According to Poole, Fard was Allah, and Elijah is the "Messenger of Allah." The National of Islam claims a membership up to a quarter of a million but as their affairs are secret, it is impossible to verify their numbers.

The objective is to save the Negro from "the wilderness of North America," to take them out of the "slavery imposed on them by the white race." In Harlem, Elijah's followers are often referred to as Africans.

Under Elijah Muhammad, the headquarters of the cult moved from Detroit to Chicago. Altogether there are at least 30 temples in various parts of the United States. There are also affiliated groups. The members are rigidly disciplined by captains who work directly under Elijah Muhammad.

The membership consists of men and women who are segregated, the women wearing a grotesque white uniform. The men are called the Fruit of Islam; the women, Muslim Girls Training. Both groups are under military discipline. Their objective is to hate "the white devil." These people are being conditioned and trained for the "War of Armageddon" when the blacks—as they refer to themselves—will kill the whites.

The Nation of Islam maintains two so-called universities; one in Detroit; the other in Chicago. These are for children between four and the upper teens. Public officials have had difficulties with them. In addition, each temple runs several businesses, which members are expected to patronize.

In February, the Nation of Islam has a convention in Chicago which is arranged like an Oriental bazaar. February is usually the start of the Feast of Ramadan among Moslems. Muhammad and his captains deliver long, vindictive speeches against the whites and against the Government of the United States.

Although Elijah pretends to support the beliefs and doctrines of Islam, a study of his preachments must produce the view that he is not adequately learned in the Koran or any interpretations thereupon. The founders of this cult were not Moslems; they were American Negroes. However, they attached themselvs to Islam, calling thmselves first Allah's Temple of Islanm and the Muslim Cult of Islam, and now settling down to be the Nation of Islam.

The organizer, W. D. Fard, who has disappeared and who the votaries of this sect believe is Allah, that is, God, was a peddler in Detroit after serving a three years period in San Quentin Penitentiary for violating the narcotics law. He went by many names and preached violence.

At first Fard preached the Bible but very soon abandoned and ridiculed the Testament and preached racial hatred instead. On November 21, 1932, Detroit was shocked by a frightful story of a human sacrifice. Robert Harris induced his roomer, John J. Smith, to present himself as a human sacrifice so that he might become the "Savior of the world." At the appointed time and place, Harris plunged a knife into Smith's heart. Harris was arrested and adjudged insane. Fard disappeared in May 1933.

Elijah Poole, variously known as Gulan Bogans, Gulam Bogans, and Mohammed Rassouli, took over. He was born in 1897 near Sandersville, Georgia, one of 13 children of Wali and Marie Poole. His parents had been slaves. Poole finished four grades of school and left home at the age of 16. In 1932, he took his wife and children to Detroit where he found work. It was there that he met and became a disciple of W. D. Fard. In 1934, Poole, now Elijah Muhammad, moved to Chicago where he established Temple No. 2, which is the central office of the Nation of Islam.

Raymond Sharrieff is the Supreme Captain of the Fruit of Islam and son-in-law of Elijah Muhammad. He is a very powerful and fearless person. Malcolm X. Little runs the New York Temple and therefore leads an enormous flock. It is suspected that Little seeks to take over the Nation of Islam. Four of Elijah's six sons are officials of the Nation of Islam. Each temple is controlled by a minister appointed by Elijah.

Senate Sleuths Implicate Union Agents In Fraud At Space Base

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson is news-gathering in South America. In his absence his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Senate Rackets Chairman John McClellan, whose investigators have been swarming over the nation's space bases, has just returned from Cape Canaveral, Fla., with evidence that union agents have been defrauding missile workers.

Some agents have pocketed as much as $300 a week out of union funds for what they call "walking around" money. This is supposed to cover their petty, incidental expenses. But the union officials allegedly have been walking off, not "walking around," with the money.

Another alleged practice: signing up new workers temporarily, putting them on a job until they pay their union fees, then throwing them out of the union and starting all over with new recruits.

McClellan's gumshoes have already implicated 19 union agents in these shenanigans.

Tempest Over Negroes

The refusal of a prominent Negro woman to lead the pledge of allegiance at the Republican Women's conference next month stirred up a tempest the other day inside the Republican National Committee.

The startling refusal came from Mrs. Ida Taylor, who is by no means unpatriotic. She simply considered it patronizing that the pledge-of-allegiance assignment was always given to a negro.

"Why should the Negro be relegated to leading the pledge?" she demanded. "Why not have a white woman pledge allegiance? I believe the Republican women should pay homage to the Negroes in other ways."

"The Negroes are ingrates," snapped GOP National Chairman Thruston Morton. "After eight years of recognition, they turned on the party that had done the most for them."

Morton also charged that Speaker Sam Rayburn had promised Southerners to bar civil rights legislation this year in return for votes to enlarge the House Rules Committee.

"Many Negroes felt the Republicans hadn't done so much," retorted Mrs. Taylor. She reminded Morton of the Republican-Dixiecrat coalition in Congress.

"The Negroes get sick and tired," she added, "of hearing about what Lincoln did for them."

Val Washington, in charge of Negro affairs at Republican Headquarters, sided with Mrs. Taylor.

"Mrs. Chester Bowles (wife of the Under Secretary of State) is active in a Negro settlement house," he said. 'What Republican women do we know who have been active in any settlement house?"

The GOP high command agreed to take a more active interest in Negroes at the grass roots. One proposed project: rounding up Negro Republican women to distribute food and medicines to the Tennessee Negroes who lost their homes and jobs for voting in the last election.

Capital Quotes

Meeting on a Senate elevator, South Dakotas' cherubic Sen. Karl Mundt introduced a friend to Hawaii's dignified Sen. Hiram Fong. "Senator Fong here is Chinese," Mundt added amiably. With icy politeness, Fong replied: "I beg your pardon, Senator, but I am an American." . . . . Later, on the same elevator, North Dakota's freshman Sen. Quentin Burdick started to introduce his wife to Iowa's veteran Sen. Bourke Hickenlooper. Blurted Burdick: "I want you to meet the Senior Senator from Utah." . . . . Joe Kennedy, father of the President, tossed the most glittering Inaugural party of them all at Paul Young's plush food palace. When singer Frankie Sinatra gushed over the splendor, Papa Joe retorted: "Wait until you see the party we throw four years from now" . . . . Duke Zeibert, Washington's suave restaurateur, was commiserating with White House aide Andy Hatcher over the recession. Hatcher spoke hopefully of Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg's anti-recession efforts. "We don't need a Goldberg," Duke responded. "We need a Solomon." . . . . Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, weary from the overtime at his new job, took an evening off to see the movie "Spartacus." Who should catch him relaxing on the job but his boss, President Kennedy. "So this is the way," cracked kennedy, "that you prepare the feed-grain bill.' . . . . Oklahoma's scrappy congressman Tom Steed has a stock answer for constituents who have been complaining about his vote to liberalize the House Rules Committee. "Don't kid me," replies Steed. "You were disappointed when I was elected."

Minister Without Retinue

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, called behind closed doors to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the Congo, showed up with only one aide instead of the retinue which always accompanied past secretaries. Yet Rusk gave such a thorough, off-the-cuff report that even Congresswoman Marguerite Church, Illinois Republican, conceded privately: "This was one of the most lucid and brilliant discourses I have heard." . . . . Missouri's salty Congressman Clarence Cannon, counting noses at a luncheon he threw for his state's congressional delegation, observed dryly: "I note the absence of Sen. Edward Long." Long's Senate colleague, Stu Symington, explained that the missing Senator was attending a $100-a-plate luncheon elsewhere. "It's good to hear a Missouri Democrat can still afford that after the recent campaign," commented Cannon. "I was thinking of chargng $100 a plate for this luncheon but figured nobody would come." . . . . Electrical Workers' boss James Carey confided to the AFL-CIO Executive Council that he had sent "a 'monopoly' game as a gift to the recreation room of the Montgomery County Prison at Norristown, Pa." This happens to be the prison where seven top executives of the Electrical industry are now serving sentences for violation of the anti-monopoly laws.

West Finds Kennedy's Leadership Realistic

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS

One of the dividends of getting married is a flood of letters of friendly congratulation. It you have passed the previous three decades as an intermittently roving reporter, furthermore, the letters come from all over the world and from people of all sorts and conditions.

In this reporter's case, the accident of timing transformed this flood into a test of the first foreign response to the Kennedy administration. Some letters in fact seemed to be written with congratulation as a mere pretext, and with the real purpose of expressing a strong political emotion provoked by a great change in America to an interested American.

From an important policy maker of a major Western nation, for instance, came a nearly full length essay on "the great satisfaction I derive from the prospect of your country at last playing the part which its qualities have fitted it to play." To this the writer added:

"Although as you know I am inclined by nature to avoid taking a very serious view, I feel twice as confident about the future with your new leaders in the saddle. The inaugural address was not just a masterpiece; it also showed the first signs of greatness and vision that have been seen on our side for many years."

From a senior statesman in a key neutral country there came another letter on the same note, welcoming "the fresh wind of youth blowing full blast" in Washington.

"Even in this remote and not easily moved part of the world," this man remarked almost wonderingly, "people feel brighter and more hopeful. The longing for American leadership has been such everywhere."

Such were not untypical reactions to the new President's stirring debut and in particular to the Inaugural address (which was even read aloud in chapel at the French convent attended by this reporter's step-daughter). It was extra interesting, therefore, to come abroad just now, when this first fine frenzy of excitement is being replaced by a more mature judgment of Kennedy-in-action.

The standard set by the debut is clearly going to be very hard to live up to, as is proven, for instance, by the French response to the choice of Gen. James Gavin as Ambassador to Paris. The new Ambassador, after all, is one of the leading Americans of his generation—an authentic hero, a man of great charm, and above all a man of profound and original intelligence. Yet there has been just a little grumbling here because Gavin is not fluent in French—which suggests the expectation of all but unearthly perfection.

Because of this high starting-standard, there has certainly been some letdown abroad since the Inauguration. The current attitude of the intelligent man in the street is to wait and see, but with considerable optimism and a refreshing readiness to give the new American government the benefit of the doubt. Meanwhile opinion is already beginning to crystallize among the most significant group of professionals, the leaders and officials of the other Western governments.

The best summary of the trend in this group was probably to be found in an article in the London "Times" about President Kennedy's plans for future dealings with Nikita S. Khrushchev. "The approach," said "The Times," is both adventurous and cautious. There can be no doubt about its realism."

Behind this judgment, there are several different, interacting factors. There is deep relief because of the dessation of diplomacy-by-gesture accompanied by loud moralistic pronouncements about the wickedness of "the world Communist conspiracy." This particular American diplomatic style, while effective for domestic-political purpose, long ago wore out its welcome among the Allies.

There is deep relief, too, because a President of the United States has again taken personal, direct charge of the affairs of the Western alliance. The long meetings with State Department and other experts at the White House have conveyed the impression of a careful hand constantly on the tiller of the storm-tossed ship of the West. And this impression has been reinforced by the careful concurrent consultations with the French, British, and other Allied governments.

Altogether, the beginning has been very good indeed despite the slight let down. The former hunger for a renewal of vigorous American leadership can be deduced from the two letters quoted above. This hunger has become a painful, absolutely general phenomenon, in all the Western capitals, long before New Year's day of 1961.

President Kennedy's debut was acclaimed with genuine emotion, precisely because it held out the hope that the hunger for leadership would at last be satisfied. The hope has not been discouraged by the mingled "adventurous-cautious" style of his first attempts to get to grips with the appalling problems he has inherited. In short he has a glittering opportunity to energize the Western alliance. But in the end, very obviously, he will be coolly judged by the hard, practical results of his exploitation of this opportunity.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

PRESSURE—The power of persuasiveness of the Kennedy Administration is beginning to show on Capitol Hill. At least that is the proper deduction to be drawn from a recent announcement by Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem Democrat who is chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee.

Powell has let it be known that he will not offer his perennial amendment on limiting funds in the federal aid to education bill to integrated schools only. This so-called "Powell amendment" has been used by Southern Democrats and conservative Republicans to defeat school legislation every time it has come up for a vote.

But this time, Powell says he will withhold his amendment, thus giving the bill, which will come out of his committee, a good chance of adoption.

If a federal aid for schools bill gets through Congress and becomes law, a direct cause will be Powell's change of heart, and the indirect reason will be the pressure or persuasion that the Kennedy administration was able to use on the veteran legislator.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS — House Speaker Sam Rayburn has promised himself to speak to President Kennedy about being more prompt in attending the many social functions requiring his presence.

Kennedy has shown a penchant for lateness, and this is bothering Sam. The 79-year-old House leader has found that Kennedy's tardiness has caused him to be the center of attraction at these functions, and Sam is feeling the strain.

At one recent occasion, Sam was overheard telling his sister, "I'm going to tell him he's got to learn to get to these parties early. When he's late it puts too much pressure on me. When he's on time, I don't have so many people after me. I'm going to tell him just as soon as he gets here."

Whether Sam "told him" is a state secret.

Overdosage of Vitamins Can Be Dangerous

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Vitamins are important to the health and development of all infants. But overdosage can be dangerous, despite the belief that these products are harmless.

Susan was an active and healthy toddler, though somewhat thin and wiry. She was at the stage when weight gain and appetite decelerate and colds and fever are more likely to occur. We checked the child and assured the parents she was normal and that the number of infections she encountered was par for this age. Special tonics or medicines were not needed but the prescribed dosage of vitamins ought to be continued.

The parents were dissatisfied with this advice and went elsewhere. We discovered later that they consulted three or four experts during the ensuing months and received the same advice. But the child began to look and act ill, became irritable, and ate poorly. She scratched her skin constantly and her legs became swollen and so painful she winced whenever they were moved.

The child was brought back to us and there was no doubt that she was chronically ill. X-rays revealed a peculiar increase in the thickness of her bones, a condition that occurs occasionally in those who take too much vitamin A.

The mother was questioned about the possibility and it turned out that Susan was receiving four to five times the needed dosage of vitamins. All the physicians consulted had suggested vitamins and the mother foolishly followed each new recommendation, while continuing the dosage advised by the previous physicians.

This little girl was saturated with vitamins and was suffering from hypervitaminosis A. It made her skin and scalp so dry she had scratched it raw. In addition to the bone changes, her liver was enlarged and anemia had developed. The excess medicine was discontinued and Susan's health returned to normal.

Faulkner Over Remick

By John Crosby

Plodding up Broadway the other day, I passed under two marquees which I found interesting. I'm a great reader of marquees at movie theaters, a form of fiction largely neglected by scholars. One marquee blared forth with "Nights of Shame" and right under it said "Strictly for Adults Only." This, it was discovered, particularly in the case of "Elmer Gantry" helped business enormously.

But then some genius thought of adding another adverb. Of course, "Strictly for Adults Only" ain't English. But then neither is Chesterfields "taste good like a cigarette should" (Awright, so it wasn't Chesterfields who said it. What's the difference? One cigarette ad sounds like another cigarette ad shouldn't). The misuse of English has proved a powerful stimulant to sales. Nowadays on radio, there's a jingle which runs something like "Puffles is gooder," sung by the little moppets who ought to know gooder than that. (It isn't Puffles either. Some other product.)

Further up Broadway was another marquee with the legend: William Faulkner's "Sanctuary" and underneath (underneath, Mannie? Where were their agents?) came the names Lee Remick, Yves Montand, Bradford Dillman Almost stopped me in my tracks. I tried to remember the last time I had seen an author's name above the title and especially above the names of the stars. Shakespeare, perhaps? No sir. It was Laurence Olivier in "Henry V" by William Whatsisname. Isben? Thackeray? Maugham? Tolstoy? George Bernard Shaw? All those fellows have had movies made of their plays and books but none of them has had his name over the movie stars in my memory.

The last guy to get up above the title was one Ernest Hemingway. Like a flash it all came very clear. If you have won the Nobel Prize, you get your name over Lee Remick's. Otherwise, you're down next to "Costumes by Jean Louis" and "Technicolor by Technicolor," and that crowd.

I mean, Shakespeare is a good writer, Mannie, with a lot of screen credits. But did he ever win the Nobel Prize? Looking at the advertisement in the newspapers I discover that Darryl Zanuck's name in small script goes over even William Faulkner's, Nobel Prize or no Nobel Prize. Nobody's name goes over Darryl Zanuck's—nobody's!

Since we're on the subject of movies, let us consider "Breathless," a French movie that is causing a lot of talk. This is French nouvelle-as-all-get-out-vague with Jean Seberg, the American girl, and a French sinister character named Jean-Paul Belmondo who is both menacing and pathetic which takes some doing.

What makes this movie tremendously interesting is the fact that the reactions of the characters simply don't fit any of the cliches of film-making which make our films to terribly predictable. Yet you have a feeling of great rightness about these youngsters who are almost emotionless, sensation-seeking, and untouched by remorse or anything resembling normal morality or decency. The girl aimlessly sells "New York Herald Tribunes" on the Champs Elysees. The man casually murders a motorcycle policeman and lives in a sort of shallow twilight underworld, casually, expertly mugging a man in a men's room, stealing cars, making love, and finally getting killed with hardly a flicker of emotion on his sullen face.

His hero—as is shown in one memorable silent moment — is Humphrey Bogart. Suddenly you realize with a start that this sort of thing all came from America and that it all goes back to "Little Caesar" and Edward G. Robinson.

Nevertheless, it's a mighty gripping ninety minutes and even little Miss Seberg, whose acting I have not always extravagantly admired, is very interesting and, above all, unexpected. "Breathless" is a good title because that's how the picture keeps you.

Minimum Wage: Law And Myth

Raising wages by fiat got its start back in the 1930s when there was some conceivable depression need of minimum standards. The rate —which continued in effect until after World War II—was 40 cents an hour.

There is less to be said, however, for the current proposal to hoist the federal figure to $1.25 per hour from the present $1 per hour. Its stated aim is to do away with an "underpaid class" by adding 25 cents per hour to minimum pay.

This theoretically would stuff more spending money into consumer pockets and set off a prosperity rocket into the wild blue yonder. Some practical considerations are ignored, one of which is that employers generally are in a cost-cutting phase. The principal cost for most of them is wages.

Instead of touching off a boom, it would be more likely to end in a job reduction trend, particularly in the retail field. Wages are fixed in the final analysis by the state of the general economy and the profit sheets of employers.

And, as the Wall Street Journal says, if there is anything to ordering wages by law, why be a piker? If $1.25 an hour is good for the country, why wouldn't $2 an hour be much better?

These Days

Nation Of Islam

This country is getting as full of cults as the pomegranate has seeds. During the pro-Lumumba rioting which occurred in the United Nations, one of these cults, the Nation of Islam, appeared. This was organized in Detroit in the early 1930s by W. D. Fard, an ex-convict. Fard's leadership was taken over by a Georgia-born Negro named Elijah Poole who changed his name to Elijah Muhammad. According to Poole, Fard was Allah, and Elijah is the "Messenger of Allah." The National of Islam claims a membership up to a quarter of a million but as their affairs are secret, it is impossible to verify their numbers.

The objective is to save the Negro from "the wilderness of North America," to take them out of the "slavery imposed on them by the white race." In Harlem, Elijah's followers are often referred to as Africans.

Under Elijah Muhammad, the headquarters of the cult moved from Detroit to Chicago. Altogether there are at least 30 temples in various parts of the United States. There are also affiliated groups. The members are rigidly disciplined by captains who work directly under Elijah Muhammad.

The membership consists of men and women who are segregated, the women wearing a grotesque white uniform. The men are called the Fruit of Islam; the women, Muslim Girls Training. Both groups are under military discipline. Their objective is to hate "the white devil." These people are being conditioned and trained for the "War of Armageddon" when the blacks—as they refer to themselves—will kill the whites.

The Nation of Islam maintains two so-called universities; one in Detroit; the other in Chicago. These are for children between four and the upper teens. Public officials have had difficulties with them. In addition, each temple runs several businesses, which members are expected to patronize.

In February, the Nation of Islam has a convention in Chicago which is arranged like an Oriental bazaar. February is usually the start of the Feast of Ramadan among Moslems. Muhammad and his captains deliver long, vindictive speeches against the whites and against the Government of the United States.

Although Elijah pretends to support the beliefs and doctrines of Islam, a study of his preachments must produce the view that he is not adequately learned in the Koran or any interpretations thereupon. The founders of this cult were not Moslems; they were American Negroes. However, they attached themselvs to Islam, calling thmselves first Allah's Temple of Islanm and the Muslim Cult of Islam, and now settling down to be the Nation of Islam.

The organizer, W. D. Fard, who has disappeared and who the votaries of this sect believe is Allah, that is, God, was a peddler in Detroit after serving a three years period in San Quentin Penitentiary for violating the narcotics law. He went by many names and preached violence.

At first Fard preached the Bible but very soon abandoned and ridiculed the Testament and preached racial hatred instead. On November 21, 1932, Detroit was shocked by a frightful story of a human sacrifice. Robert Harris induced his roomer, John J. Smith, to present himself as a human sacrifice so that he might become the "Savior of the world." At the appointed time and place, Harris plunged a knife into Smith's heart. Harris was arrested and adjudged insane. Fard disappeared in May 1933.

Elijah Poole, variously known as Gulan Bogans, Gulam Bogans, and Mohammed Rassouli, took over. He was born in 1897 near Sandersville, Georgia, one of 13 children of Wali and Marie Poole. His parents had been slaves. Poole finished four grades of school and left home at the age of 16. In 1932, he took his wife and children to Detroit where he found work. It was there that he met and became a disciple of W. D. Fard. In 1934, Poole, now Elijah Muhammad, moved to Chicago where he established Temple No. 2, which is the central office of the Nation of Islam.

Raymond Sharrieff is the Supreme Captain of the Fruit of Islam and son-in-law of Elijah Muhammad. He is a very powerful and fearless person. Malcolm X. Little runs the New York Temple and therefore leads an enormous flock. It is suspected that Little seeks to take over the Nation of Islam. Four of Elijah's six sons are officials of the Nation of Islam. Each temple is controlled by a minister appointed by Elijah.

West Finds Kennedy's Leadership Realistic

By Joseph Alsop

PARIS

One of the dividends of getting married is a flood of letters of friendly congratulation. It you have passed the previous three decades as an intermittently roving reporter, furthermore, the letters come from all over the world and from people of all sorts and conditions.

In this reporter's case, the accident of timing transformed this flood into a test of the first foreign response to the Kennedy administration. Some letters in fact seemed to be written with congratulation as a mere pretext, and with the real purpose of expressing a strong political emotion provoked by a great change in America to an interested American.

From an important policy maker of a major Western nation, for instance, came a nearly full length essay on "the great satisfaction I derive from the prospect of your country at last playing the part which its qualities have fitted it to play." To this the writer added:

Senate Sleuths Implicate Union Agents In Fraud At Space Base

By Jack Anderson

(Editor's Note—Drew Pearson is news-gathering in South America. In his absence his column is being written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Senate Rackets Chairman John McClellan, whose investigators have been swarming over the nation's space bases, has just returned from Cape Canaveral, Fla., with evidence that union agents have been defrauding missile workers.

Some agents have pocketed as much as $300 a week out of union funds for what they call "walking around" money. This is supposed to cover their petty, incidental expenses. But the union officials allegedly have been walking off, not "walking around," with the money.

Another alleged practice: signing up new workers temporarily, putting them on a job until they pay their union fees, then throwing them out of the union and starting all over with new recruits.

McClellan's gumshoes have already implicated 19 union agents in these shenanigans.

Tempest Over Negroes

The refusal of a prominent Negro woman to lead the pledge of allegiance at the Republican Women's conference next month stirred up a tempest the other day inside the Republican National Committee .

The startling refusal came from Mrs. Ida Taylor, who is by no means unpatriotic. She simply considered it patronizing that the pledge-of-allegiance assignment was always given to a negro.

"Why should the Negro be relegated to leading the pledge?" she demanded. "Why not have a white woman pledge allegiance? I believe the Republican women should pay homage to the Negroes in other ways."

"The Negroes are ingrates," snapped GOP National Chairman Thruston Morton. "After eight years of recognition, they turned on the party that had done the most for them."

Morton also charged that Speaker Sam Rayburn had promised Southerners to bar civil rights legislation this year in return for votes to enlarge the House Rules Committee.

"Many Negroes felt the Republicans hadn't done so much," retorted Mrs. Taylor. She reminded Morton of the Republican-Dixiecrat coalition in Congress.

"The Negroes get sick and tired," she added, "of hearing about what Lincoln did for them."

Val Washington, in charge of Negro affairs at Republican Headquarters, sided with Mrs. Taylor. "Mrs. Chester Bowles (wife of the Under Secretary of State) is active in a Negro settlement house," he said. 'What Republican women do we know who have been active in any settlement house?"

The GOP high command agreed to take a more active interest in Negroes at the grass roots. One proposed project: rounding up Negro Republican women to distribute food and medicines to the Tennessee Negroes who lost their homes and jobs for voting in the last election.

When singer Frankie Sinatra gushed over the splendor, Papa Joe retorted: "Wait until you see the party we throw four years from now." . . . . Duke Zeibert, Washington's suave restaurateur, was commiserating with White House aide Andy Hatcher over the recession. Hatcher spoke hopefully of Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg's anti-recession efforts. "We don't need a Goldberg," Duke responded. "We need a Solomon." . . . . Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, weary from the overtime at his new job, took an evening off to see the movie "Spartacus." Who should catch him relaxing on the job but his boss, President Kennedy. "So this is the way," cracked kennedy, "that you prepare the feed-grain bill." . . . . Oklahoma's scrappy congressman Tom Steed has a stock answer for constituents who have been complaining about his vote to liberalize the House Rules Committee. "Don't kid me," replies Steed. "You were disappointed when I was elected."

Minister Without Retinue

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, called behind closed doors to brief the House Foreign Affairs Committee on the Congo, showed up with only one aide instead of the retinue which always accompanied past secretaries. Yet Rusk gave such a thorough, off-the-cuff report that even Congresswoman Marguerite Church, Illinois Republican, conceded privately: "This was one of the most lucid and brilliant discourses I have heard." . . . . Missouri's salty Congressman Clarence Cannon, counting noses at a luncheon he threw for his state's congressional delegation, observed dryly: "I note the absence of Sen. Edward Long." Long's Senate colleague, Stu Symington, explained that the missing Senator was attending a $100-a-plate luncheon elsewhere. "It's good to hear a Missouri Democrat can still afford that after the recent campaign," commented Cannon. "I was thinking of chargng $100 a plate for this luncheon but figured nobody would come." . . . . Electrical Workers' boss James Carey confided to the AFL-CIO Executive Council that he had sent "a 'monopoly' game as a gift to the recreation room of the Montgomery County Prison at Norristown, Pa." This happens to be the prison where seven top executives of the Electrical industry are now serving sentences for violation of the anti-monopoly laws.

Faulkner Over Remick

By John Crosby

Plodding up Broadway the other day, I passed under two marquees which I found interesting. I'm a great reader of marquees at movie theaters, a form of fiction largely neglected by scholars. One marquee blared forth with "Nights of Shame" and right under it said "Strictly for Adults Only." This, it was discovered, particularly in the case of "Elmer Gantry" helped business enormously.

But then some genius thought of adding another adverb. Of course, "Strictly for Adults Only" ain't English. But then neither is Chesterfields "taste good like a cigarette should" (Awright, so it wasn't Chesterfields who said it. What's the difference? One cigarette ad sounds like another cigarette ad shouldn't). The misuse of English has proved a powerful stimulant to sales. Nowadays on radio, there's a jingle which runs something like "Puffles is gooder," sung by the little moppets who ought to know gooder than that. (It isn't Puffles either. Some other product.)

Further up Broadway was another marquee with the legend: William Faulkner's "Sanctuary" and underneath (underneath, Mannie? Where were their agents?) came the names Lee Remick, Yves Montand, Bradford Dillman Almost stopped me in my tracks. I tried to remember the last time I had seen an author's name above the title and especially above the names of the stars. Shakespeare, perhaps? No sir. It was Laurence Olivier in "Henry V" by William Whatsisname. Isben? Thackeray? Maugham? Tolstoy? George Bernard Shaw? All those fellows have had movies made of their plays and books but none of them has had his name over the movie stars in my memory.

The last guy to get up above the title was one Ernest Hemingway. Like a flash it all came very clear. If you have won the Nobel Prize, you get your name over Lee Remick's. Otherwise, you're down next to "Costumes by Jean Louis" and "Technicolor by Technicolor," and that crowd. I mean, Shakespeare is a good writer, Mannie, with a lot of screen credits. But did he ever win the Nobel Prize? Looking at the advertisement in the newspapers I discover that Darryl Zanuck's name in small script goes over even William Faulkner's, Nobel Prize or no Nobel Prize. Nobody's name goes over Darryl Zanuck's—nobody's!

Since we're on the subject of movies, let us consider "Breathless," a French movie that is causing a lot of talk. This is French nouvelle-as-all-get-out-vague with Jean Seberg, the American girl, and a French sinister character named Jean-Paul Belmondo who is both menacing and pathetic which takes some doing.

What makes this movie tremendously interesting is the fact that the reactions of the characters simply don't fit any of the cliches of film-making which make our films to terribly predictable. Yet you have a feeling of great rightness about these youngsters who are almost emotionless, sensation-seeking, and untouched by remorse or anything resembling normal morality or decency. The girl aimlessly sells "New York Herald Tribunes" on the Champs Elysees. The man casually murders a motorcycle policeman and lives in a sort of shallow twilight underworld, casually, expertly mugging a man in a men's room, stealing cars, making love, and finally getting killed with hardly a flicker of emotion on his sullen face.

His hero—as is shown in one memorable silent moment — is Humphrey Bogart. Suddenly you realize with a start that this sort of thing all came from America and that it all goes back to "Little Caesar" and Edward G. Robinson.

Nevertheless, it's a mighty gripping ninety minutes and even little Miss Seberg, whose acting I have not always extravagantly admired, is very interesting and, above all, unexpected. "Breathless" is a good title because that's how the picture keeps you.

W. Va. House Lacks Margin On Liquor Bill

Resolution Needs Two-Third Vote

By FRED FERRIS

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Liquor-by-the-drink in West Virginia took a spill in the House of Delegates Friday, but advocates said they believe they can mop up the damage without losing a drop.

A resolution proposing a constitutional referendum to allow the voters to decide whether over-the-bar sales might be legalized in the state failed by six to get the necessary 67 votes for two-thirds approval. The vote was 61-39 in favor of the resolution.

But after a 10-minute recess for buttonholing purposes the so-called "wets" succeeded in getting a motion approved to reconsider that vote — and then get a "re - match" put off until Monday at 2:30 p.m.

One of the leading proponents of the resolution told United Press International after the recess for the week end that he is confident of picking up the six "missing" votes.

The anti - liquor forces didn't like the week end holdover. The chief of the "drys" — the Rev. L. E. Crowson, legislative chairman of the West Virginia Temperance League—said:

MU May Be Threatened

"I believe the 39 men who voted against sending down this referendum at this time will resent the pressures which will be exerted on them this week end in an attempt to have them change their vote."

Crowson was one of the many interested spectators in the packed galleries. When the House voted, prior to the liquor debate, to eliminate restrictions from the Marshall University bill on granting of certain degrees, Crowson said, "That would swing the vote the other (wet) way."

There have been recurring reports of vote - trading by liquor and "Marshall University" advocates but on the vote on the resolution, six out of the seven members of the Cabell Wayne County House which is pushing Marshall-U voted against liquor.

Senate liquor proponents were plainly upset by the failure of the resolution, passed last week by the Senate, to get approval in the House. And there were strong indications they might work hard against the Marshall-U bill if the liquor proposition fails Monday.

Debate preceding the vote on the resolution lasted one hour, 12 minutes and included much the same thing that has been said be-

Civil Defense Meeting Set At Fort Ashby

The next meeting of the Mineral County Civil Defense organization will be held at the Fort Ashby Volunteer Fire Company hall on March 3 at 8 p. m.

Representatives of all county fire departments are requested to be present at this meeting when the county coordinator for fire fighting units will be selected.

Raymond Lee, Mineral County Civil Defense director, said the coordinator will be in charge of all units in the event of a major alert or disaster.

He added that the national CD organization also wants all military and civilian personal to observe low-flying aircraft and those appearing to be in trouble. The observer is asked to get direction, color, numbers or other identification, to estimate trouble and altitude, and to relay information to the nearest Civil Defense office, airport, or police.

This will help in the event aircraft become lost or crash in the area, he stated.

As Rutherford B. Hayes's inaugural day fell on Sunday, he broke precedent by taking his oath privately at the White House.

LaSalle Beats Allegany, 71-67, Ties For City Title

Alco's Final Period Rally Falls Short

Long Tallies 19, Shatters Season Scoring Record

An overflow crowd that roared its approval or the lack of it at every turn crammed into SS. Peter and Paul gym last night and saw LaSalle's Explorers hold off a strong Allegany rally to beat the Campers, 71-67, and earn a share of the city championship.

The Explorers had dropped the opener with Allegany in a 57-55 thriller at Campobello. Both teams beat Fort Hill twice and wound up with 3-1 records in intra-city competition to tie for the title won outright by LaSalle last year.

In the earlier meeting Allegany, whose tendency all season has been to fold in the late stages of the game, blew a 12-point lead and just barely hung on at the end, but last night the Campers bounced back from a 14-point deficit and battled the Irish right down to the wire.

Barbe Clinches Win

Phil Barbe sank a pair of free throws with five seconds left to clinch the victory, number 20 for the Explorers in 23 games this season. It was a redemption for Barbe, who with 18 seconds remaining missed a foul toss that was rebounded by Allegany's Doug Luzier.

Luzier had come off the bench in the third period to spark the Campers' surge. The big, rugged senior, whose lack of opportunity to play has been an enigma, pumped in five field goals in six attempts, including two left-hand hook shots that came in the midst of a volley of 11 straight Allegany points.

LaSalle's Mike Long, who last night broke the city scoring record for a season, fired in a one-hander that gave the Explorers a 61-48 lead. A charity toss by Al Kaplon of Allegany closed out the scoring in the period and the Campers broke out in the final quarter with a 10-point barrage before Long's pair of free throws ended LaSalle's scoring drought with 3:15 gone.

A jump shot by Gary Mulligan, Luzier's two quick fielders, two foul conversions by Kaplon and Merv Pope's field goal pulled the Campers to within two points at 61-59.

LaSalle built its lead back up to six points, but the visitors sliced it to two again. With 35 seconds to go, Wayne Shook hit on a one-hander and the score read 69-67. After Luzier hauled in Barbe's missed foul try, Jerry Pentoney got off a southpaw shot that was off the mark. The ball bounced off a Camper cager struggling for the rebound and the Explorers took over.

Barbe, who was deliberately fouled by Pentoney with five seconds left, calmly canned both shots to sew up the victory which cost elated Coach George Geatz a thorough dunking in the showers.

Both Shoot .500

Both teams shot at a .500 pace in the hot first half which ended with LaSalle on the long end of a 41-37 score. Allegany fell flat on its face in the third period, making only five of 20 floor attempts while LaSalle's hand stayed hot with an 8-18 effort.

John Sloan, who had showed signs of "stage fright" in the first Allegany-LaSalle encounter, was quite at ease last night. He fired in seven field goals in eight tries in the first half, several on beautifully executed tip-ins in which he out-maneuvered much taller defenders.

The tricky junior had only one field goal after intermission, but the scoring slack was taken up by Long. Mike pumped in five goals in the second half and wound up with 19 points, giving him 533 for the season, breaking the individual record of 520 set last year by the Explorers' Mickey Scaletta.

Sloan finished with 17 points. Carroll Wilt, who fouled out in the final period, had 16 and Gary Blake collected 12. As a unit, La Salle made 30 of 63 shots from the field for a .476 percentage.

Pope Scores 21

Pope was the game's high scorer with 21 tallies. Mulligan contributed 14 and Shook and Luzier had 10. Allegany took the same number of shots as LaSalle but made four less for a .413 average.

In addition to taking scoring honors, Pope also led the rebounders with 12, as the taller Campers out-rebounded LaSalle, 37-28.

Franklin High, Moorefield Win 14-A Contests

Indians, Mathias Lose Semi-Finals

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets and the Franklin High Panthers advanced into the championship finals last night in the West Virginia Section 14-A tournament at Moorefield.

The Jackets defeated Circleville High, 76-50, for their fourth straight victory over the Indians this season in the nightcap of the semi-final playoffs last night.

Moorefield whipped Circleville, 62-57 in the Petersburg holiday tournament then downed the Indians twice more in regular season play, 106-67 and 84-71. The win was Moorefield's 16th of the season.

Circleville battled the Jackets on nearly even terms in the first half, trailing 43-31 at halftime, but faded badly in the last two stanzas as Moorefield had four of its starters score in the double figures.

Leading the scoring parade was Doug Yankey who tallied 23 points on nine goals and 5-9 at the foul line. He was ably assisted by Robert Bean with 13, David Vance with 14 and Ed Bean who scored 18.

Orville Harper, the area's leading scorer, dumped in 20 points in a losing cause for Circleville which lost Nelson, Roy Williams, Kelsey and Ronnie Williams on personal fouls.

In last night's opener Franklin took Mathias into camp for the third time this year. The Panthers hopped off to an early lead and increased it steadily for a 62-41 triumph.

Franklin also defeated Mathias twice in regular season play with 69-48 and 74-55 victories.

The Panthers cleared their bench, using 12 players in the contest with Charles Moyers leading the attack with 20 points. Ronnie Gilkeson and Dave Propst, who also played good floor games, chipped in with 12 apiece for the winners.

High man for Mathias was Lowell Mathias with 12 points while Ed Mongold contributed 11 for the losers.

Moorefield and Franklin will collide in tonight's championship game at Moorefield at 8:30, following a consolation preliminary between Mathias at Circleville at 7 o'clock.

During the season Moorefield whipped Franklin twice, 70-40 and 67-51 and will be highly favored to advance into the Region Four playoffs at Potomac State next weekend. The lineups:

Prince Georges Junior College of Suitland, Md., eliminated Charles County Junior College, of LaPlata, Md., in the first of two afternoon games by the score of 87-75.

Commit 73 Personals

In the second contest, a run-and-shoot affair in which the teams scored 67 field goals, meshed 88 of 120 free throws and committed 73 personal fouls, Shenandoah College of Winchester, Va., outlasted Harford Junior College of Bel Air, Md., 119 to 103.

Prince Georges, winner of 15 out of 17 regular season conference contests, broke a 33-33 tie early in the second half and never gave up the lead the remainder of the game. The score was knotted at 27-27, and 31-31 in frist half and 33-33 in the final stanza.

Al Trombetta, Shenandoah forward contributed 33 points to the winning cause with 11 field goals and a perfect 11-for-11 at the foul line.

LaSalle Beats Allegany, 71-67, Ties For City Title

Alco's Final Period Rally Falls Short

Long Tallies 19, Shatters Season Scoring Record

An overflow crowd that roared its approval or the lack of it at every turn crammed into SS. Peter and Paul gym last night and saw LaSalle's Explorers hold off a strong Allegany rally to beat the Campers, 71-67, and earn a share of the city championship.

The Explorers had dropped the opener with Allegany in a 57-55 thriller at Campobello. Both teams beat Fort Hill twice and wound up with 3-1 records in intra-city competition to tie for the title won outright by LaSalle last year.

In the earlier meeting Allegany, whose tendency all season has been to fold in the late stages of the game, blew a 12-point lead and just barely hung on at the end, but last night the Campers bounced back from a 14-point deficit and battled the Irish right down to the wire.

Barbe Clinches Win

Phil Barbe sank a pair of free throws with five seconds left to clinch the victory, number 20 for the Explorers in 23 games this season. It was a redemption for Barbe, who with 18 seconds remaining missed a foul toss that was rebounded by Allegany's Doug Luzier.

Luzier had come off the bench in the third period to spark the Campers' surge. The big, rugged senior, whose lack of opportunity to play has been an enigma, pumped in five field goals in six attempts, including two left-hand hook shots that came in the midst of a volley of 11 straight Allegany points.

LaSalle's Mike Long, who last night broke the city scoring record for a season, fired in a one-hander that gave the Explorers a 61-48 lead. A charity toss by Al Kaplon of Allegany closed out the scoring in the period and the Campers broke out in the final quarter with a 10-point barrage before Long's pair of free throws ended LaSalle's scoring drought with 3:15 gone.

A jump shot by Gary Mulligan, Luzier's two quick fielders, two foul conversions by Kaplon and Merv Pope's field goal pulled the Campers to within two points at 61-59.

LaSalle built its lead back up to six points, but the visitors sliced it to two again. With 35 seconds to go, Wayne Shook hit on a one-hander and the score read 69-67. After Luzier hauled in Barbe's missed foul try, Jerry Pentoney got off a southpaw shot that was off the mark. The ball bounced off a Camper cager struggling for the rebound and the Explorers took over.

Barbe, who was deliberately fouled by Pentoney with five seconds left, calmly canned both shots to sew up the victory which cost elated Coach George Geatz a thorough dunking in the showers.

Both Shoot .500

Both teams shot at a .500 pace in the hot first half which ended with LaSalle on the long end of a 41-37 score. Allegany fell flat on its face in the third period, making only five of 20 floor attempts while LaSalle's hand stayed hot with an 8-18 effort.

John Sloan, who had showed signs of "stage fright" in the first Allegany-LaSalle encounter, was quite at ease last night. He fired in seven field goals in eight tries in the first half, several on beautifully executed tip-ins in which he out-maneuvered much taller defenders.

The tricky junior had only one field goal after intermission, but the scoring slack was taken up by Long. Mike pumped in five goals in the second half and wound up with 19 points, giving him 533 for the season, breaking the individual record of 520 set last year by the Explorers' Mickey Scaletta.

Sloan finished with 17 points. Carroll Wilt, who fouled out in the final period, had 16 and Gary Blake collected 12. As a unit, La Salle made 30 of 63 shots from the field for a .476 percentage.

Pope Scores 21

Pope was the game's high scorer with 21 tallies. Mulligan contributed 14 and Shook and Luzier had 10. Allegany took the same number of shots as LaSalle but made four less for a .413 average.

In addition to taking scoring honors, Pope also led the rebounders with 12, as the taller Campers out-rebounded LaSalle, 37-28.

Indians, Mathias Lose Semi-Finals

Moorefield High's Yellowjackets and the Franklin High Panthers advanced into the championship finals last night in the West Virginia Section 14-A tournament at Moorefield.

The Jackets defeated Circleville High, 76-50, for their fourth straight victory over the Indians this season in the nightcap of the semi-final playoffs last night.

Moorefield whipped Circleville, 62-57 in the Petersburg holiday tournament then downed the Indians twice more in regular season play, 106-67 and 84-71. The win was Moorefield's 16th of the season.

Circleville battled the Jackets on nearly even terms in the first half, trailing 43-31 at halftime, but faded badly in the last two stanzas as Moorefield had four of its starters score in the double figures.

Leading the scoring parade was Doug Yankey who tallied 23 points on nine goals and 5-9 at the foul line. He was ably assisted by Robert Bean with 13, David Vance with 14 and Ed Bean who scored 18.

Orville Harper, the area's leading scorer, dumped in 20 points in a losing cause for Circleville which lost Nelson, Roy Williams, Kelsey and Ronnie Williams on personal fouls.

In last night's opener Franklin took Mathias into camp for the third time this year. The Panthers hopped off to an early lead and increased it steadily for a 62-41 triumph.

Franklin also defeated Mathias twice in regular season play with 69-48 and 74-55 victories.

The Panthers cleared their bench, using 12 players in the contest with Charles Moyers leading the attack with 20 points. Ronnie Gilkeson and Dave Propst, who also played good floor games, chipped in with 12 apiece for the winners.

High man for Mathias was Lowell Mathias with 12 points while Ed Mongold contributed 11 for the losers.

Moorefield and Franklin will collide in tonight's championship game at Moorefield at 8:30, following a consolation preliminary between Mathias at Circleville at 7 o'clock.

During the season Moorefield whipped Franklin twice, 70-40 and 67-51 and will be highly favored to advance into the Region Four playoffs at Potomac State next weekend. The lineups:

Smashups Injure Seven Drivers At Daytona Speedway

Weatherly, Roberts Win Main Events

17,500 Spectators Witness Series Of Stock Car Crackups

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Fireball Roberts and Joe Weatherly roared to victory Friday in a pair of 100-mile Grand National stock car races filled with hair-raising crashes that left 17,500 spectators limp from excitement.

Seven drivers went to hospitals after spectacular smashups, including the famous father-son team of Lee and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C.

Richard crashed over the east wall of the Daytona International Speedway in the closing moments of the second race.

Over West Wall

Lee went over the 150-foot west wall in the opening race — the first driver to clear that towering barrier. He climbed back to the top of the wall and waved dramatically to show he was all right but was hospitalized with a broken leg and shoulder.

Weatherly, from Norfolk, Va., was clocked at 152.77 miles an hour in his 1961 Pontiac in the second race, easily breaking the record of 146.520 m.p.h. set last year by Jack Smith of Spartanburg, S.C., in a 1960 Pontiac.

Qualify For "500"

Roberts, of Daytona Beach, won in the slow time of 129.77 m.p.h. in another 1961 Pontiac because the yellow caution flag was down for 18 laps after a track-cluttering accident earlier in the race. During this time the cars were required by the rules to move slowly, holding their positions.

The first 20 finishers in each race Friday, in addition to Roberts and Weatherly, qualified for the "Daytona 500" to be run at 1 p.m. EST Sunday. Roberts and Weatherly had qualified earlier by setting fastest lap times in the week's practices.

D&W, Frostburg Methodist Seek Playoff Berth

D.&W. and Frostburg Methodist will be fighting for a berth in the Fearer Memorial Church League playoffs in today's concluding games at Beall High School and Frostburg State Teachers gyms.

St. Michael's undefeated (14-0) quint, St. Joseph's, and Cresaptown Methodist already have clinched the first three spots in the loop playoffs which will get underway next Thursday or Friday at Beall.

Palmer, Burke Lead In Baton Rouge Tourney

Both Shoot 65s In First Round

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Burke braved soggy fairways, driving rain and a threat of a tornado Friday to take the first-round lead in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament with five-under-par 65s.

Another 18 holes will be played Saturday with a 36-hole day set Sunday after after the field is cut to the top 50 pros and all amateurs.

Palmer, the 1960 golfer of the year who plays out of Miami, birdied the last two holes to catch Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., the early leader.

Four pros finished with 66, just a stroke back of the leaders. They are Doug Sanders, Ojai, Calif.; Frank Boynton, Orlando, Fla.; George Knudson, Toronto, Canada and David Love Jr., West Caldwell, N.J.

Five more players were at 67, including home-state favorite Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La. Lionel's brother Jay, the PGA king, had a 69, as did Sammy Snead of Boca Raton, Fla.

Leading the amateurs was Bert Burdick of Baton Rouge, with a 70.

12,238 See Boston Win Over Syracuse

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics overcame weather conditions, transportation difficulties and an early 18-point deficit and handed the Syracuse Nationals a 144-128 beating before a capacity 12,238 Garden crowd Friday night.

The National Basketball Association defending champions exploded for 79 points in the second and third periods to gain the win. The Nats have lost only three of their last 14 games.

Tommy Heinsohn had 26 points and Frank Ramsey and Sam Jones 25 each to pace the winners. Larry Costello was high man for the Nats with 25 points.

The Boston win lowered the Celtics' "magic number" to four. Any combination of four Boston victories and Philadelphia losses would give Boston their fifth straight Eastern Division title.

John Thomas, Valery Brumel Renew Duel

High Jumpers Vie In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The second round of the Valery Brumel-John Thomas world championship high jump bout comes up Saturday night in the National AAU Track and Field Championships in Madison Square Garden.

At the moment, Brumel, the 18-year-old Russian whiz kid, is one up on Thomas. Valery cleared 7 feet, 3 inches last week in the New York Athletic Club meet, while Thomas could get over only 7-1.

Ed Flanagan, Thomas' coach at Boston University, says he hasn't been working his protege hard enough.

"We're thinking in terms of 7-6 now," he said.

If Brumel and Thomas falter, the spotlight could fall on any of several other events.

In the mile, for example, Istvan Rozsavolgyi, the skinny Hungarian army captain, still is seeking a sub-four-minute mile on boards. He is undefeated this year and will be pushed by Jim Beatty of Santa Clara, Calif., and Evgeny Momotkov of Russia.

Rozy's best time in his five victories was 4:04 last week. Beatty is a pusher and can set a hot pace. Momotkov, third in his debut as a two-miler last week, decided to go for the shorter distance.

Don Bragg, who the past two weeks has barely missed 16 feet in the pole vault, will make another try. Ralph Boston, Tennessee A&I, who became the first broad jumper ever to get over 26 feet indoors last week (26-1¾), is ready to better his mark.

Did you know that under official baseball rules there is NO appeal from the decision of the umpire-in-chief on a half swing.

Smashups Injure Seven Drivers At Daytona Speedway

Weatherly, Roberts Win Main Events

17,500 Spectators Witness Series Of Stock Car Crackups

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fireball Roberts and Joe Weatherly roared to victory Friday in a pair of 100-mile Grand National stock car races filled with hair-raising crashes that left 17,500 spectators limp from excitement.

Seven drivers went to hospitals after spectacular smashups, including the famous father-son team of Lee and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C.

Richard crashed over the east wall of the Daytona International Speedway in the closing moments of the second race.

Over West Wall

Lee went over the 150-foot west wall in the opening race — the first driver to clear that towering barrier. He climbed back to the top of the wall and waved dramatically to show he was all right but was hospitalized with a broken leg and shoulder.

Weatherly, from Norfolk, Va., was clocked at 152.77 miles an hour in his 1961 Pontiac in the second race, easily breaking the record of 146.520 m.p.h. set last year by Jack Smith of Spartanburg, S.C., in a 1960 Pontiac.

Qualify For "500"

Roberts, of Daytona Beach, won in the slow time of 129.77 m.p.h. in another 1961 Pontiac because the yellow caution flag was down for 18 laps after a track-cluttering accident earlier in the race. During this time the cars were required by the rules to move slowly, holding their positions.

The first 20 finishers in each race Friday, in addition to Roberts and Weatherly, qualified for the "Daytona 500" to be run at 1 p.m. EST Sunday. Roberts and Weatherly had qualified earlier by setting fastest lap times in the week's practices.

McMahon Signs

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI) — Relief pitcher Don McMahon, whose slump last season had much to do with the Milwaukee Braves' failure to win the National League pennant, accepted terms Friday and cut the number of unsigned Braves to eight.

TAKING A NOSE DIVE — Wes Morgan of Alexandria, Va., flipped his '60 Chevy end over end after a collision with Dave Mader of Birmingham, Ala., in the first of the two 100-mile races yesterday afternoon at the Daytona International Speedway. Beckley Coach Found Guilty

MT. HOPE, W. Va. (UPI) — Beckley high school basketball coach Lawrence Wiseman was found guilty in a magistrate's court Friday of striking one of his players during a game here last week.

However, Wiseman posted $500 bond after paying $10 court costs and appealed the verdict to the Fayette County Circuit Court.

Wiseman was accused of hitting Rodney Miller, one of his players, during a scuffle between Miller and a Mt. Hope player. Wiseman denied the charge and said he was only trying to break up the scuffle.

Roy Struck In Neck By Bounding Ball

FT. MYERS, Fla. (UPI) — Pitcher Roy Face escaped serious injury in a Pirate workout Friday when he was struck on the left side of his neck by a ground ball during fielding practice.

Manager Danny Murtaugh was testing the reflexes of the pitchers in fielding line drives hit through the box when he slashed a sharp one-bounce liner toward the mound.

Face leaped for the ball but it bounced crazily over his glove and hit him on the neck, knocking the little pitching ace to the ground. Play stopped immediately but Face got up grinning, more embarrassed than anything else.

Palmer, Burke Lead In Baton Rouge Tourney

Both Shoot 65s In First Round

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Defending champion Arnold Palmer and Jack Burke braved soggy fairways, driving rain and a threat of a tornado Friday to take the first-round lead in the $20,000 Baton Rouge Open Golf Tournament with five-under-par 65s.

Although play was slowed by the poor weather and held up once for five minutes by a driving downpour, the entire field of 145 professionals and 12 amateurs completed the first 18 holes by nightfall.

Another 18 holes will be played Saturday with a 36-hole day set Sunday after after the field is cut to the top 50 pros and all amateurs.

Palmer, the 1960 golfer of the year who plays out of Miami, birdied the last two holes to catch Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., the early leader.

Four pros finished with 66, just a stroke back of the leaders. They are Doug Sanders, Ojai, Calif.; Frank Boynton, Orlando, Fla.; George Knudson, Toronto, Canada and David Love Jr., West Caldwell, N.J.

Five more players were at 67, including home-state favorite Lionel Hebert of Lafayette, La. Lionel's brother Jay, the PGA king, had a 69, as did Sammy Snead of Boca Raton, Fla.

Leading the amateurs was Bert Burdick of Baton Rouge, with a 70.

12,238 See Boston Win Over Syracuse

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics overcame weather conditions, transportation difficulties and an early 18-point deficit and handed the Syracuse Nationals a 144-128 beating before a capacity 12,238 Garden crowd Friday night.

The National Basketball Association defending champions exploded for 79 points in the second and third periods to gain the win. The Nats have lost only three of their last 14 games.

Tommy Heinsohn had 26 points and Frank Ramsey and Sam Jones 25 each to pace the winners. Larry Costello was high man for the Nats with 25 points.

The Boston win lowered the Celtics' "magic number" to four. Any combination of four Boston victories and Philadelphia losses would give Boston their fifth straight Eastern Division title.

John Thomas, Valery Brumel Renew Duel

High Jumpers Vie In Garden Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The second round of the Valery Brumel-John Thomas world championship high jump bout comes up Saturday night in the National AAU Track and Field Championships in Madison Square Garden.

At the moment, Brumel, the 18-year-old Russian whiz kid, is one up on Thomas. Valery cleared 7 feet, 3 inches last week in the New York Athletic Club meet, while Thomas could get over only 7-1.

Ed Flanagan, Thomas' coach at Boston University, says he hasn't been working his protege hard enough.

"We're thinking in terms of 7-6 now," he said.

If Brumel and Thomas falter, the spotlight could fall on any of several other events.

In the mile, for example, Istvan Rozsavolgyi, the skinny Hungarian army captain, still is seeking a sub-four-minute mile on boards. He is undefeated this year and will be pushed by Jim Beatty of Santa Clara, Calif., and Evgeny Momotkov of Russia.

Rozy's best time in his five victories was 4:04 last week. Beatty is a pusher and can set a hot pace. Momotkov, third in his debut as a two-miler last week, decided to go for the shorter distance.

Don Bragg, who the past two weeks has barely missed 16 feet in the pole vault, will make another try. Ralph Boston, Tennessee A&I, who became the first broad jumper ever to get over 26 feet indoors last week (26-1¾), is ready to better his mark.

Did you know that under official baseball rules there is NO appeal from the decision of the umpire-in-chief on a half swing.

Ticker Tape Lags Amid High Stock Speculation

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy trading and selective gains marked a turbulent stock market Friday. Prices were mixed.

Volume was 5.33 million shares compared with 5.62 million Thursday and the ticker tape lagged as much as six minutes behind transactions.

The list was higher most of the day but began to falter in the afternoon. Profit taking was intense in the closing minutes and a number of key stocks converted gains to losses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at Thursday's historic high of 237.10. The industrial component also was unchanged. Rails dropped .30 and utilities rose .30.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1.18 to 655.60—failing to surmount the important June rally top of 656.42.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index edged up .25 to 62.84, bettering Thursday's historic high.

A higher trend was displayed by building materials, school equipment issues, oils and—now that the airline strike is largely settled—by stocks of the air carriers. Some of the electronics, photographic stocks and home finance issues also were popular.

Of 1,284 issues traded, 629 advanced and 441 declined. New 1960-'61 highs totaled 110 and there were no new lows.

Of the 15 most active stocks, nine advanced, four declined and two were unchanged.

American Stock Exchange prices also were irregular. Volume swelled to 2.32 million shares from Thursday's 2.21 and was the largest since the Dec. 30 session.

Corporate bonds were steady. U.S. government bonds were mixed in light trading.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grain futures were irregular in active dealings Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1¾ to up 1⅝; corn off ⅛ to up ¼; oats off ¼ to up ⅛; rye up ¾ to 1¾; soybeans off 2 to up 4⅝, and drummed lard up 8 to 13 points.

Nearby soybeans jumped to new highs for the season after an early setback from profit-taking. Active commission and exporter buying pushed the July to within 1 cent of the $3 mark. Deferred contracts fell sharply on commission selling.

Adding support to soybeans were reports of a record January crush, new export sales and loan figures which were sharply below a year ago.

Political news remained the chief factor in feed grains. In addition, there was talk of possible support changes for wheat, which brought buying into deferred positions of that commodity.

Old crop wheat fell as much as 2 cents a bushel in the March. Liquidation was active, with Tuesday set for first delivery notice day on March contracts. Commission house bought and sold.

Corn responded to a report that a distiller was interested in a large amount of CCC corn at lower prices. Spreading dominated the corn trade, and prices firmed.

Oats advanced with corn. Cash interests bought March and sold May and July.

Exporters said Pakistan and South Korea bought white and hard wheat. Israel took 800,000 bushels of corn, and Japan and Norway bought parcels of soybeans.

Outside markets were mostly higher.

Ticker Tape Lags Amid High Stock Speculation

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy trading and selective gains marked a turbulent stock market Friday. Prices were mixed.

Volume was 5.33 million shares compared with 5.62 million Thursday and the ticker tape lagged as much as six minutes behind transactions.

The list was higher most of the day but began to falter in the afternoon. Profit taking was intense in the closing minutes and a number of key stocks converted gains to losses.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed unchanged at Thursday's historic high of 237.10. The industrial component also was unchanged. Rails dropped .30 and utilities rose .30.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index edged up .25 to 62.84, bettering Thursday's historic high.

A higher trend was displayed by building materials, school equipment issues, oils and—now that the airline strike is largely settled—by stocks of the air carriers. Some of the electronics, photographic stocks and home finance issues also were popular.

Of 1,284 issues traded, 629 advanced and 441 declined. New 1960-'61 highs totaled 110 and there were no new lows.

Of the 15 most active stocks, nine advanced, four declined and two were unchanged.

American Stock Exchange prices also were irregular. Volume swelled to 2.32 million shares from Thursday's 2.21 and was the largest since the Dec. 30 session.

Corporate bonds were steady. U.S. government bonds were mixed in light trading.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI) — Grain futures were irregular in active dealings Friday on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed off 1¾ to up 1⅝; corn off ⅛ to up ¼; oats off ¼ to up ⅛; rye up ¾ to 1¾; soybeans off 2 to up 4⅝, and drummed lard up 8 to 13 points.

Nearby soybeans jumped to new highs for the season after an early setback from profit-taking. Active commission and exporter buying pushed the July to within 1 cent of the $3 mark. Deferred contracts fell sharply on commission selling.

Adding support to soybeans were reports of a record January crush, new export sales and loan figures which were sharply below a year ago.

Political news remained the chief factor in feed grains. In addition, there was talk of possible support changes for wheat, which brought buying into deferred positions of that commodity.

Old crop wheat fell as much as 2 cents a bushel in the March. Liquidation was active, with Tuesday set for first delivery notice day on March contracts. Commission house bought and sold.

Corn responded to a report that a distiller was interested in a large amount of CCC corn at lower prices. Spreading dominated the corn trade, and prices firmed.

Oats advanced with corn. Cash interests bought March and sold May and July.

Rye gained more than a cent on commission buying.

Exporters said Pakistan and South Korea bought white and hard wheat. Israel took 800,000 bushels of corn, and Japan and Norway bought parcels of soybeans.

Outside markets were mostly higher.

Cards of Thanks

The family of Orpha Failinger wishes to thank their friends and neighbors for kindness extended during their bereavement. They also thank those who sent flowers, cards, foods, the pallbearers, those who donated the use of their cars, Rev. David Fetter and anyone who assisted in any way.

THE FAMILY

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us during our recent bereavement, the death of our dearly beloved son and brother, Joseph T. Ziler. We also wish to extend our thanks to Rev. Clarence McCloud, Rev. Paul V. Taylor, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, loaned cars for the funeral and all who assisted us in any manner.

Mr. & Mrs. Peter Ziler & Family

The family of the late Barton John Stoops wishes to express sincere thanks and appreciation to all who were so kind to them during their recent bereavement. They especially wish to thank Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Hughson, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and cards and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.

Naomi Stoops and Family

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Francis L. Beck, who gave his all 16 years ago today, Feb. 25, 1945 in Germany for the cause of freedom.

Sixteen years have passed dear Francis
Since you did last feel pain.
Far from loved ones to comfort you,
As you gave your life that day.
The source of sorrow has not stopped,
Neither has the horror of war.
God alone knows how much we miss you.
Throughout these 16 years.

FATHER, MOTHER,
SISTER & BROTHER

Cards of Thanks

The family of Orpha Failinger wishes to thank their friends and neighbors for kindness extended during their bereavement. They also thank those who sent flowers, cards, foods, the pallbearers, those who donated the use of their cars, Rev. David Fetter and anyone who assisted in any way.
THE FAMILY

We wish to thank all our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown us during our recent bereavement, the death of our dearly beloved son and brother, Joseph T. Ziler. We also wish to extend our thanks to Rev. Clarence McCloud, Rev. Paul V. Taylor, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes, loaned cars for the funeral and all who assisted us in any manner.
Mr. & Mrs. Peter Ziler & Family

The family of the late Barton John Stoops wishes to express sincere thanks and appreciation to all who were so kind to them during their recent bereavement. They especially wish to thank Rev. and Mrs. Melvin Hughson, the pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and cards and all others who in any manner rendered assistance.
Naomi Stoops and Family

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Francis L. Beck, who gave his all 16 years ago today, Feb. 25, 1945 in Germany for the cause of freedom.

Sixteen years have passed dear Francis
Since you did last feel pain.
Far from loved ones to comfort you,
As you gave your life that day.
The source of sorrow has not stopped,
Neither has the horror of war.
God alone knows how much we miss you.
Throughout these 16 years.

FATHER, MOTHER,
SISTER & BROTHER.

Paret And Ortega Fight On Coast

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Welterweight boxing champion Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba and television star Gaspar Ortega of Mexico battle over the 10-round route Saturday night at Olympic Auditorium in a nontitle bout.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC-TV) and Ortega should feel right at home. Although he has not been a consistent winner, with a 58-20-2 record, Ortega has appeared on no less than 26 national TV bouts.

The 23-year old Paret who may move up to the middleweight class expected to weigh in at about 153 pounds while Ortega, 25, said he expected to hit 148.

Fight Postponed

MANILA (AP)—Flash Elorde's defense of his world junior lightweight title March 4 against Californian Joey Lopes was postponed Friday because the Filipino is suffering from a deep-seated cold. The date was moved back to March 19.

Elorde's handlers requested the delay in order to give the 25-year-old, 130-pound division champion more time to get into condition.

Hialeah And Santa Anita Feature $100,000 Races

Prove It, Carry Back Are Favored In Today's Events

By The Associated Press

Two $100,000-plus races, the Flamingo for 3-year-olds at Hialeah and the Santa Anita Handicap in California, will hold the thoroughbred racing spotlight Saturday with heavy favorites standing out in both events.

Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back, winner of the Everglades Stakes last week at Hialeah, is the odds-on choice at 3-5 in the Flamingo, for colts of derby age. Seven were entered for the 1⅛-mile race.

Eleven May Start

Entries for the 1¼-mile Santa Anita Handicap were closed Thursday, when 11 names went into the box. Rex Ellsworth's Prove It, winner last month of the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity, is the 4-5 choice in the handicap.

Carry Back is to be ridden by John Sellers, leading rider at Hialeah. The probable second choice is Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, who won the Hibiscus Stakes. With seven starters the Flamingo will gross $129,800, the winner taking $84,370.

There was one notable absentee in the Flamingo. Trainer Jimmy Jones failed to enter Beau Prince, saying he didn't believe the Calumet Farm colt was ready for such a tough race.

Shoemaker To Ride

Willie Shoemaker rides Prove It in the Santa Anita Handicap, and the winning owner is guaranteed a purse of $100,000. Prove It has a break in the weights, carrying only 115 pounds. C. V. Whitney's Tompion is the high weight with 124. The probable second choice is C. W. Smith's American Comet, with 115 pounds.

There will be $45,000 to split up for the three horses who follow the winner home, $20,000, $15,000 and $10,000 for second, third and fourth, respectively.

Buckeyes Seek 27th Straight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ohio State goes for its 27th straight win and at least a share of the Big Ten title, for the second straight year, Saturday against Wisconsin in the highlight game of a full slate of five Big Ten basketball games.

The Buckeyes were heavy favorites to down the Badgers, beaten previously by Ohio State at Madison, 100-68. Ohio State will be aiming for its 22nd win without a defeat this season, and its 22nd straight home triumph without a loss. Ohio State has won 12 straight Big Ten games, over two seasons.

Woodeschick Hurt

Woodeshick curtailed his workout but is expected to return to practice Saturday.

Frostburg State Plays At Bowie

Frostburg State Teachers College hits the road for the final time this season when it meets Bowie State Teachers College tonight at Bowie, Md.

It will be the 20th game of the campaign for Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's Bobcats who owns a 7-12 record. This is the only time Bowie appears on the Frostburg schedule this season.

Frostburg State's basketeers have won only one of eight games on the road this season and that was at Hagerstown. At home the Bobcats are 6-5.

Former Detroit Mentor Dies

DETROIT (UPI) — James F. Duffy, former head football coach at the University of Detroit, died Friday at Veterans Hospital in suburban Allen Park.

Duffy, about 70 and a bachelor, was graduated from Colgate in 1915 and took over as head coach at Detroit two years later.

He coached the Titans in 1917, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1924.

The advocates hammered on the people's "right to vote" on it; the "drys" argued that it was a "matter of morality," that some "wets" were guilty of "chicanery" and the proposed constitutional amendment was "unworkable."

Calls Niles Liar

House Temperance Chairman Roy Lee Harmon, D-Raleigh, among those who spoke in favor of the resolution, angrily denounced the Rev. Stanley B. Niles, superintendent of the Temperance League and editor of its publication "West Virginia Issue."

Some of the other comments during the debate:.

Del. J. E. Watson, D-Marion: "The provisions of this resolution remove any fear of a return to the old-time saloons and bars that we had before and during prohibition. It's the people's right to decide this issue. If it is submitted and voted down, I, for one, will not be coming back to the Legislature and bringing up the question again."

Del. J. C. Cruikshank, D-Clay: "This dread drug (whisky) has created more chaos than the famine of India and all the other conflagrations of the world. Remember, last fall Harold Neely endorsed whisky by the drink and Wally Barron refused. I don't have to tell you who was elected governor...Liquor will bring more problems than prosperity... I deplore all the chicanery that has gone on here in the past week."

Del. J. Hornor Davis III, D-Kanawha: "The last election was not decided on the question of legalizing liquor by the drink. It has been pointed out that under this amendment, the number of bars would be reduced in some places like Ohio County. I would think everybody would be in favor of this."

Calls For Study

Del. Jack Nuzum, D-Randolph: "I will not deny the people the right to vote on this question. They (anti-liquor forces) are in effect saying the people are not smart enough to decide this for themselves."

Del. Nell Walker, D-Fayette: "I sincerely believe that the people of West Virginia do not want this question submitted to them until a thorough study is made of alcohol and alcoholism...To approve this would be morally wrong."

Del. Roy Lee Harmon, D-Raleigh: "I want to emphasize that I have never been approached by liquor interests in this matter. I am for this resolution to allow the people to decide it. I believe the people can vote intelligently."

Del. W. T. Brotherton, D-Kanawha: "Let's not holler here about the right to vote. If we are going to have a vote let's have a total vote. This way we have just one side. I would vote for the resolution if the dry question were on it — that is, to allow a vote on prohibition, keeping the system as it is or liquor-by-the-drink. This resolution proposes an unworkable constitutional amendment."

Del. Thomas W. Mathias, D-Logan: "I have been told that to vote for this is political suicide. But I can't believe the people didn't send me here to vote my convictions. What disturbs me is that some people here will not vote their convictions — voting against the resolution to avoid the sound and fury of certain pressure groups."

Del. J. Paul England, D-Wyoming: "This is a matter of morality that transcends the democratic process. In the long run alcohol in no instance pays its way. Good never comes from evil."

Marciano Group Would Purchase Liston Contract

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rocky Marciano is preparing to return to boxing—as a manager.

The undefeated former world heavyweight champion disclosed Friday that he and a group of New York business men are considering the purchase of Sonny Liston's contract.

"We expect to start negotiations just as soon as we decide what we can reasonably offer for Liston's contract," explained Marciano, who was in New York to receive a youth-aid award Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Liston is rated the world's top heavyweight contender by the Ring Magazine and the National Boxing Association. The 26-year-old Philadelphian has won 31 of his 32 pro fights, 21 by knockouts.

Marciano believes he and his backers can buy Liston's contract for a reasonable sum because Sonny's manager, Joseph (Pep) Barone, is ailing and because of "certain involvements," which he did not wish to discuss.

Lavagetto Reports

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — The training camp of the Minnesota Twins began to take on a down-to-business look with the arrival Friday of manager Cookie Lavagetto, relief pitcher Ray Moore and the word that three key Cuban players will report momentarily.

Lavagetto and Moore missed the first two days of workouts because of the airlines strike. Camilo Pascual and Pedro Ramos, who are expected to carry the pitching work load for the Twins, and shortstop Zorro Versalles enplaned from their native Cuba Thursday bound for Orlando by way of Mexico City. They said they'd be here by Saturday.

Phillies Drill

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UPI) — The Phillies officially opened spring training Friday as a squad of 20 pitchers and catchers engaged in a 2½ hour drill under the direction of manager Gene Mauch.

Agrees To Terms

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (UPI) — Second baseman Ken Aspromonte, the only Los Angeles Angel who came close to being a holdout, agreed to terms Friday as the new American League club opened training camp in ideal 74-degree weather.

Paret And Ortega Fight On Coast

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Welterweight boxing champion Benny (Kid) Paret of Cuba and television star Gaspar Ortega of Mexico battle over the 10-round route Saturday night at Olympic Auditorium in a nontitle bout.

The fight will be televised nationally (ABC-TV) and Ortega should feel right at home. Although he has not been a consistent winner, with a 58-20-2 record, Ortega has appeared on no less than 26 national TV bouts.

The 23-year old Paret who may move up to the middleweight class expected to weigh in at about 153 pounds while Ortega, 25, said he expected to hit 148.

Fight Postponed

MANILA (AP)—Flash Elorde's defense of his world junior lightweight title March 4 against Californian Joey Lopes was postponed Friday because the Filipino is suffering from a deep-seated cold. The date was moved back to March 19.

Elorde's handlers requested the delay in order to give the 25-year-old, 130-pound division champion more time to get into condition.

Hialeah And Santa Anita Feature $100,000 Races

Prove It, Carry Back Are Favored In Today's Events

By The Associated Press

Two $100,000-plus races, the Flamingo for 3-year-olds at Hialeah and the Santa Anita Handicap in California, will hold the thoroughbred racing spotlight Saturday with heavy favorites standing out in both events.

Mrs. Katherine Price's Carry Back, winner of the Everglades Stakes last week at Hialeah, is the odds-on choice at 3-5 in the Flamingo, for colts of derby age. Seven were entered for the 1⅛-mile race.

Eleven May Start

Entries for the 1¼-mile Santa Anita Handicap were closed Thursday, when 11 names went into the box. Rex Ellsworth's Prove It, winner last month of the $100,000 Santa Anita Maturity, is the 4-5 choice in the handicap.

Carry Back is to be ridden by John Sellers, leading rider at Hialeah. The probable second choice is Fred W. Hooper's Crozier, who won the Hibiscus Stakes. With seven starters the Flamingo will gross $129,800, the winner taking $84,370.

There was one notable absentee in the Flamingo. Trainer Jimmy Jones failed to enter Beau Prince, saying he didn't believe the Calumet Farm colt was ready for such a tough race.

Shoemaker To Ride

Willie Shoemaker rides Prove It in the Santa Anita Handicap, and the winning owner is guaranteed a purse of $100,000. Prove It has a break in the weights, carrying only 115 pounds. C. V. Whitney's Tompion is the high weight with 124. The probable second choice is C. W. Smith's American Comet, with 115 pounds.

There will be $45,000 to split up for the three horses who follow the winner home, $20,000, $15,000 and $10,000 for second, third and fourth, respectively.

Buckeyes Seek 27th Straight

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ohio State goes for its 27th straight win and at least a share of the Big Ten title, for the second straight year, Saturday against Wisconsin in the highlight game of a full slate of five Big Ten basketball games.

The Buckeyes were heavy favorites to down the Badgers, beaten previously by Ohio State at Madison, 100-68. Ohio State will be aiming for its 22nd win without a defeat this season, and its 22nd straight home triumph without a loss. Ohio State has won 12 straight Big Ten games, over two seasons.

Woodeschick Hurt

Woodeschick curtailed his workout but is expected to return to practice Saturday.

Frostburg State Plays At Bowie

Frostburg State Teachers College hits the road for the final time this season when it meets Bowie State Teachers College tonight at Bowie, Md.

It will be the 20th game of the campaign for Coach Ron Van Ryswyk's Bobcats who owns a 7-12 record. This is the only time Bowie appears on the Frostburg schedule this season.

Frostburg State's basketeers have won only one of eight games on the road this season and that was at Hagerstown. At home the Bobcats are 6-5.

The Bobcats wind up their season Wednesday, March 1 when they play Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers at Frostburg.

The advocates hammered on the people's "right to vote" on it; the "drys" argued that it was a "matter of morality," that some "wets" were guilty of "chicanery" and the proposed constitutional amendment was "unworkable."

Calls Niles Liar

House Temperance Chairman Roy Lee Harmon, D-Raleigh, among those who spoke in favor of the resolution, angrily denounced the Rev. Stanley B. Niles, superintendent of the Temperance League and editor of its publication "West Virginia Issue."

In the latest edition, Niles accused Harmon of refusing to allow anti-liquor forces to give their side at recent hearings. "Reverend Stanley Niles is a liar," shouted Harmon, emphasizing the statement with up-raised arm.

Some of the other comments during the debate:

Del. J. E. Watson, D-Marion: "The provisions of this resolution remove any fear of a return to the old-time saloons and bars that we had before and during prohibition. It's the people's right to decide this issue. If it is submitted and voted down, I, for one, will not be coming back to the Legislature and bringing up the question again."

Del. J. C. Cruikshank, D-Clay: "This dread drug (whisky) has created more chaos than the famine of India and all the other conflagrations of the world. Remember, last fall Harold Neely endorsed whisky by the drink and Wally Barron refused. I don't have to tell you who was elected governor...Liquor will bring more problems than prosperity... I deplore all the chicanery that has gone on here in the past week."

Del. J. Hornor Davis III, D-Kanawha: "The last election was not decided on the question of legalizing liquor by the drink. It has been pointed out that under this amendment, the number of bars would be reduced in some places like Ohio County. I would think everybody would be in favor of this."

Calls For Study

Del. Jack Nuzum, D-Randolph: "I will not deny the people the right to vote on this question. They (anti-liquor forces) are in effect saying the people are not smart enough to decide this for themselves."

Del. Nell Walker, D-Fayette: "I sincerely believe that the people of West Virginia do not want this question submitted to them until a thorough study is made of alcohol and alcoholism...To approve this would be morally wrong."

Del. Roy Lee Harmon, D-Raleigh: "I want to emphasize that I have never been approached by liquor interests in this matter. I am for this resolution to allow the people to decide it. I believe the people can vote intelligently."

Del. W. T. Brotherton, D-Kanawha: "Let's not holler here about the right to vote. If we are going to have a vote let's have a total vote. This way we have just one side. I would vote for the resolution if the dry question were on it — that is, to allow a vote on prohibition, keeping the system as it is or liquor-by-the-drink. This resolution proposes an unworkable constitutional amendment."

Del. Thomas W. Mathias, D-Logan: "I have been told that to vote for this is political suicide. But I can't believe the people didn't send me here to vote my convictions. What disturbs me is that some people here will not vote their convictions — voting against the resolution to avoid the sound and fury of certain pressure groups."

Del. J. Paul England, D-Wyoming: "This is a matter of morality that transcends the democratic process. In the long run alcohol in no instance pays its way. Good never comes from evil."

Marciano Group Would Purchase Liston Contract

NEW YORK (UPI)—Rocky Marciano is preparing to return to boxing—as a manager.

The undefeated former world heavyweight champion disclosed Friday that he and a group of New York business men are considering the purchase of Sonny Liston's contract.

"We expect to start negotiations just as soon as we decide what we can reasonably offer for Liston's contract," explained Marciano, who was in New York to receive a youth-aid award Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Liston is rated the world's top heavyweight contender by the Ring Magazine and the National Boxing Association. The 26-year-old Philadelphian has won 31 of his 32 pro fights, 21 by knockouts.

Marciano believes he and his backers can buy Liston's contract for a reasonable sum because Sonny's manager, Joseph (Pep) Barone, is ailing and because of "certain involvements," which he did not wish to discuss.

Liberal Arts College Bill Is Backed

Hearing Set March 7 On University Center In Western Maryland

A bill to convert Frostburg State Teachers College into a Western Maryland center of the University of Maryland was introduced yesterday in the House of Delegates.

Speedy action on the proposal was indicated as plans were made to hold a hearing on the bill March 7.

The Allegany and Garrett delegations joined Speaker of the House Perry O. Wilkinson in sponsoring the proposal which has the solid backing of Governor Tawes.

The legislation will have the unanimous support of the Allegany and Garrett county delegations and the Allegany legislators are pledged to support it "all the way down the line."

Delegation Chairman Fred B. Driscoll jubilantly reported Thursday night that the amended plan is a "distinct asset to the people of Western Maryland.

It is an emergency measure which would take effect immediately upon passage and signing by the governor. As such it requires a three-fifths vote for passage in each House—74 of the 123 delegates and 18 of the 29 senators.

The proposal faces an all-out fight from forces allied with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, and the state Board of Education, which now controls all five of the state teacher colleges.

The emergency clause was put into the bill in an effort to frustrate a threat by opponents to have the issue petitioned onto the 1962 general election ballot.

At the request of Allegany County delegates provisions were written into the bill to ensure that any students who enroll in the college for teacher education shall not pay any tuition fees or charges for room and board in excess of those charged by other teacher colleges:

The bill says:

"The State Teachers College at Frostburg is hereby transferred to and constituted a part of the University of Maryland. Said transferred institution shall hereinafter be known as the 'University of Maryland, Frostburg,' and shall be under the control and jurisdiction of the board of regents of the University of Maryland. . .

Protects Students

"Provided, that said board shall maintain, among others, courses of study at the University of Maryland, Frostburg, in teacher education, designed for the preparation of teachers for the elementary and secondary schools:

"And provided further that students, residents of Maryland, now enrolled, or who hereafter may enroll, in teacher education at the said University of Maryland, Frostburg, and who shall obligate themselves to teach in Maryland for a period of not less than two years, shall not be required to pay any tuition fees, or charges for room and board in excess of those charged by state teachers colleges in this State;

"And provided further that all qualified students, residents of Maryland, may apply for admission to the University of Maryland, Frostburg, without regard to their home location in this State. .

"All employes of the institution hereby transferred now included within the classified service of the State shall remain in and continue to be a part of the classified service. . ."

The bill provides that Frostburg shall have university scholarships—free tuition for three students from each legislative district in Baltimore City and from each county.

Liberal Arts Sought

The bill declares in a preamble that a liberal arts college is urgently sought by "business, labor, industrial, civic and cultural groups representing all segments of community life in the Western Maryland area."

It says this need can be filled and at the same time ease the strain on facilities at College Park.

Gov. Tawes, in a statement issued as the bill was introduced, said:

"I strongly support the bill in its present form, and I earnestly solicit the help of members of the General Assembly in bringing about its early passage."

The bill cleared a major hurdle earlier this week when it won the backing of the Allegany County delegation, which debated the issue before resolving differences and getting protective amendments written in for those presently at the teachers college.

Tawes has insisted the proposal, originally presented by a committee of Western Maryland leaders, offers the means to improve sagging educational opportunity in Western Maryland.

The Frostburg plan was born after a broader plan to make university branches of Frostburg, Towson and Salisbury State Teachers colleges was referred to the Legislative Council for further study.

Planning Visit Next Week To School Labs

Chemistry Professor To Observe Students

Dr. Fred A. Snavely, associate professor of chemistry at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., will meet next week with staff members of the Allegany County Board of Education, chemistry teachers and students of high schools in the county.

William E. Kight, city, past president of the Western Maryland Branch of the American Chemical Society, sponsors of his visit, made the arrangements for his trip to the county.

Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools, who is coordinator for the visit, said that on Monday at 10 a. m. Dr. Snavely will confer with him, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of public schools, and Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

That afternoon, Tuesday and Wednesday, the associate professor, accompanied by Mr. Petry and Mr. Rizer, will visit the high schools, tour the laboratories and observe the students doing experimental work.

On Tuesday the associate professor will meet with chemistry teachers at 7:30 p. m. at the Board of Education.

A resident of RD 3, Lititz, Pa., the associate professor received his bachelor of science degree in 1949 at Franklin and Marshall, and three years later received his doctor of philosophy degree at Pennsylvania State University.

He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, and of the American Chemical Society, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Association of University Professors, Pi Lambda Upsilon, and Alpha Chi Sigma.

He served in the Army Air Corps from January 1941 to November 1945 and was a prisoner of war at Krems, Austria, from April 1944 to June 1945.

In 1952 he became an instructor of chemistry at the college and the following year was named assistant professor in chemistry. In 1957 he was named associate profesor. He collaborated in writing a number of publications on chemistry.

County Seeks Guarantee Of Two Judges

Allegany delegates want to restore the guarantee that two circuit judges will come from their county.

They introduced Friday a bill to require that two of the four judges in the 4th Judicial Circuit be residents of Allegany County and be elected by the voters there. The circuit includes Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties.

For 60 years before 1954, the circuit had three judges and two of them lived in Allegany. Seven years ago, the constitution was amended to require that one of them come from Garrett, thus eliminating one for Allegany.

Last year, the number of judges in the circuit was increased to four and Allegany legislators feel they are entitled to two again.

Board To Take Appeal Under Advisement

Testimony Heard In Suspension Case

The Cumberland Civil Service Commission yesterday afternoon heard testimony on an appeal filed by Officer Harold E. Gibson from a 10-day suspension meted out by the Police Department on a charge of insubordination.

Ralph R. Webster, chairman, said the commission will meet as soon as testimony is transcribed and will give a decision as soon as possible.

Several Testify

The suspension was meted out the night of January 17 after Officer Gibson got in a cruiser car with Detective Morrissey to investigate a fire alarm turned in from the Nurses Home at Memorial Hospital and failed to call in at Police Headquarters.

Chief Gaffney said Officer Gibson had come to see him several times after Lt. Smith was placed in charge of the 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift. He said the officer didn't feel he was treated right and wanted off the shift.

Lt. Smith said Officer Gibson took offense at any orders. He testified that last fall he saw the patrolman smoking on the sidewalk on Baltimore Street in violation of Rule 10 of the Police Department. Officer Gibson denied the charge when he testified.

Several other incidents were cited by Lt. Smith and denied by the officer.

In relation to the specific incident, Lt. Smith said he saw Officer Gibson get into the car with the detective. He said officers have been directed that, when they are picked up by a cruiser or patrol wagon, they should call the station and report, and that the call was not made.

Denies Insolence

Francis A. Kenney, commission member, queried why if neither Detective Morrissey nor Officer Gibson reported in, both were not charged.

Detective Morrissey said he was at headquarters afterwards when Lt. Smith called Officer Gibson into his office. He said the door was open and that neither "raised his voice." He said Gibson told him that Lt. Smith was sending him home because he had been off his beat.

Officer Gibson said Lt. Smith, after the incident, asked him what he was doing off his beat and that he replied, "I thought you knew where I was."

He said he was not insolent and did not raise his voice.

Over 250 Given Polio Shots

Over 250 adults and children were given their shots at the polio immunization clinic held this week at the Health Department, in the county building on Union Street.

In the one-to-four-year age group, 29 received their fourth shot; five-to-20-year-olds were given 27 first shots, eight second, one third, 92 fourth, and 10 received their fifth shot. The adult group, ages 20 to 40 years, got 30 first shots, 21 second, six third and 14 fourth shots.

The clinic is conducted every Wednesday from 1 until 4 p.m., and health authorities urge everyone, particularly adults, to take advantage of this oportunity to receive polio shots before the season begins. A fifth shot is now being recommended.

School age children (up to 18) must have a written note of permission to receive the shots unless accompanied by their par-

College, Racing Problems May Be Resolved

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Two friction-makers on Frostburg Teachers College and harness racing were received Friday by the Maryland legislature.

Gov. Tawes is solidly behind the move to make Frostburg a branch of the University of Maryland. He may not be keen about the idea of establishing a new and separate commission to regulate harness racing.

But surface sentiment appeared strong for the three-member commission in addition to the present five-man agency that administers all horse racing.

There were 40 sponsors on the House bill and leaders said they had pledges of 15 other votes. It takes 62 delegates to pass a bill.

All 26 delegates from the governor's native Eastern Shore are on the harness bill. Many of them had been inclined against the conversion of Frostburg.

But a change in sentiment was possible, particularly if the administration does not oppose their desire to have harness people run their own business.

While the new controversies were arriving on the legislative scene, the legal way was cleared for Senate action Monday night on another.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan said in his opinion the Case commission bill to regulate building and loan associations is constitutional.

Some lawyers in the legislature wanted to be reassured it was. They were concerned that it might violate the constitution because it will force some associations to change either their types of stock or their names.

Chamber Names Six Delegates To Convention

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will send six delegates to the 49th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington April 30-May 3.

C. M. Sanner, secretary of the George F. Hazlewood Company and Chamber president; William L. Wilson, local attorney, and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber.

A number of members from here are expected to attend sessions in which they have a particular interest.

Some 3,000 delegates are expected to attend the meeting on the theme, "Progress through voluntary action and freedom."

State PTA Leader Hits Ripper Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Mrs. Fred L. Bull, legislative chairman of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, Friday blasted a "ripper" bill introduced in the general assembly as an attempt "to subject our schools to direct political control."

The bill, which was dumped into the hopper during the week, would authorize the Governor to appoint the state superintendent of schools and directors of five other key state departments.

All the agency heads affected are presently appointed by their respective boards or commissions.

Mrs. Bull said the proposal—introduced by Del. Elbert Buckel, D-Garrett, and four other House members—confirmed the fears of parents that political moves are being made in the direction of the schools.

"It is difficult for us to believe that the governor of Maryland would be a party to such an unprecedented dangerous, and radical proposal," Mrs. Bull said. She said the Maryland Congress had called upon the governor to oppose the measure.

Gov. Tawes emphatically disavowed any connection with the bill and said earlier this week he has always been against all legislation designed to remove an incumbent from office.

Mrs. Bull said parents had become concerned over attempts to convert Frostburg State Teachers College into a branch of the University of Maryland.

"If in the heat of a legislative session a state institution such as Frostburg State Teachers College can suddenly be reassigned to another state board, then nothing is sacred in our public school system," she said.

Liberal Arts College Bill Is Backed

Hearing Set March 7 On University Center In Western Maryland

A bill to convert Frostburg State Teachers College into a Western Maryland center of the University of Maryland was introduced yesterday in the House of Delegates.

Speedy action on the proposal was indicated as plans were made to hold a hearing on the bill March 7.

The Allegany and Garrett delegations joined Speaker of the House Perry O. Wilkinson in sponsoring the proposal which has the solid backing of Governor Tawes.

The legislation will have the unanimous support of the Allegany and Garrett county delegations and the Allegany legislators are pledged to support it "all the way down the line."

Delegation Chairman Fred B. Driscoll jubilantly reported Thursday night that the amended plan is a "distinct asset to the people of Western Maryland.

It is an emergency measure which would take effect immediately upon passage and signing by the governor. As such it requires a three-fifths vote for passage in each House—74 of the 123 delegates and 18 of the 29 senators.

The proposal faces an all-out fight from forces allied with Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, and the state Board of Education, which now controls all five of the state teacher colleges.

The emergency clause was put into the bill in an effort to frustrate a threat by opponents to have the issue petitioned onto the 1962 general election ballot.

At the request of Allegany County delegates provisions were written into the bill to ensure that any students who enroll in the college for teacher education shall not pay any tuition fees or charges for room and board in excess of those charged by other teacher colleges:

The bill says:

"The State Teachers College at Frostburg is hereby transferred to and constituted a part of the University of Maryland. Said transferred institution shall hereinafter be known as the 'University of Maryland, Frostburg,' and shall be under the control and jurisdiction of the board of regents of the University of Maryland. . .

Protects Students

"Provided, that said board shall maintain, among others, courses of study at the University of Maryland, Frostburg, in teacher education, designed for the preparation of teachers for the elementary and secondary schools:

"And provided further that students, residents of Maryland, now enrolled, or who hereafter may enroll, in teacher education at the said University of Maryland, Frostburg, and who shall obligate themselves to teach in Maryland for a period of not less than two years, shall not be required to pay any tuition fees, or charges for room and board in excess of those charged by state teachers colleges in this State;

"And provided further that all qualified students, residents of Maryland, may apply for admission to the University of Maryland, Frostburg, without regard to their home location in this State. .

"All employes of the institution hereby transferred now included within the classified service of the State shall remain in and continue to be a part of the classified service. . ."

The bill provides that Frostburg shall have university scholarships —free tuition for three students from each legislative district in Baltimore City and from each county.

Liberal Arts Sought

The bill declares in a preamble that a liberal arts college is urgently sought by "business, labor, industrial, civic and cultural groups representing all segments of community life in the Western Maryland area."

It says this need can be filled and at the same time ease the strain on facilities at College Park.

Gov. Tawes, in a statement issued as the bill was introduced, said:

"I strongly support the bill in its present form, and I earnestly solicit the help of members of the General Assembly in bringing about its early passage."

The bill cleared a major hurdle earlier this week when it won the backing of the Allegany County delegation, which debated the issue before resolving differences and getting protective amendments written in for those presently at the teachers college.

Tawes has insisted the proposal, originally presented by a committee of Western Maryland leaders, offers the means to improve sagging educational opportunity in Western Maryland.

The Frostburg plan was born after a broader plan to make university branches of Frostburg, Towson and Salisbury State Teachers colleges was referred to the Legislative Council for further study.

Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools, who is coordinator for the visit, said that on Monday at 10 a. m. Dr. Snavely will confer with him, Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of public schools, and Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent.

That afternoon, Tuesday and Wednesday, the associate professor, accompanied by Mr. Petry and Mr. Rizer, will visit the high schools, tour the laboratories and observe the students doing experimental work.

County Seeks Guarantee Of Two Judges

Allegany delegates want to restore the guarantee that two circuit judges will come from their county.

They introduced Friday a bill to require that two of the four judges in the 4th Judicial Circuit be residents of Allegany County and be elected by the voters there. The circuit includes Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties.

For 60 years before 1954, the circuit had three judges and two of them lived in Allegany. Seven years ago, the constitution was amended to require that one of them come from Garrett, thus eliminating one for Allegany.

Last year, the number of judges in the circuit was increased to four and Allegany legislators feel they are entitled to two again.

Board To Take Appeal Under Advisement

Testimony Heard In Suspension Case

The Cumberland Civil Service Commission yesterday afternoon heard testimony on an appeal filed by Officer Harold E. Gibson from a 10-day suspension meted out by the Police Department on a charge of insubordination.

Ralph R. Webster, chairman, said the commission will meet as soon as testimony is transcribed and will give a decision as soon as possible.

City Solicitor William R. Carscaden represented the Police Department and Harold E. Naughton was the attorney for Officer Gibson.

Several Testify

The suspension was meted out the night of January 17 after Officer Gibson got in a cruiser car with Detective Morrissey to investigate a fire alarm turned in from the Nurses Home at Memorial Hospital and failed to call in at Police Headquarters.

Chief Gaffney said Officer Gibson had come to see him several times after Lt. Smith was placed in charge of the 5 p.m. to 1 a.m. shift. He said the officer didn't feel he was treated right and wanted off the shift.

Lt. Smith said Officer Gibson took offense at any orders. He testified that last fall he saw the patrolman smoking on the sidewalk on Baltimore Street in violation of Rule 10 of the Police Department. Officer Gibson denied the charge when he testified.

Several other incidents were cited by Lt. Smith and denied by the officer.

In relation to the specific incident, Lt. Smith said he saw Officer Gibson get into the car with the detective. He said officers have been directed that, when they are picked up by a cruiser or patrol wagon, they should call the station and report, and that the call was not made.

Denies Insolence

Francis A. Kenney, commission member, queried why if neither Detective Morrissey nor Officer Gibson reported in, both were not charged.

Detective Morrissey said he was at headquarters afterwards when Lt. Smith called Officer Gibson into his office. He said the door was open and that neither "raised his voice." He said Gibson told him that Lt. Smith was sending him home because he had been off his beat.

Officer Gibson said Lt. Smith, after the incident, asked him what he was doing off his beat and that he replied, "I thought you knew where I was."

He said he was not insolent and did not raise his voice.

College, Racing Problems May Be Resolved

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Two friction-makers on Frostburg Teachers College and harness racing were received Friday by the Maryland legislature.

Gov. Tawes is solidly behind the move to make Frostburg a branch of the University of Maryland. He may not be keen about the idea of establishing a new and separate commission to regulate harness racing.

But surface sentiment appeared strong for the three-member commission in addition to the present five-man agency that administers all horse racing.

There were 40 sponsors on the House bill and leaders said they had pledges of 15 other votes. It takes 62 delegates to pass a bill.

All 26 delegates from the governor's native Eastern Shore are on the harness bill. Many of them had been inclined against the conversion of Frostburg.

But a change in sentiment was possible, particularly if the administration does not oppose their desire to have harness people run their own business.

While the new controversies were arriving on the legislative scene, the legal way was cleared for Senate action Monday night on another.

Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan said in his opinion the Case commission bill to regulate building and loan associations is constitutional.

Some lawyers in the legislature wanted to be reassured it was. They were concerned that it might violate the constitution because it will force some associations to change either their types of stock or their names.

A number of members from here are expected to attend sessions in which they have a particular interest.

Some 3,000 delegates are expected to attend the meeting on the theme, "Progress through voluntary action and freedom."

State PTA Leader Hits Ripper Bill

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Mrs. Fred L. Bull, legislative chairman of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers, Friday blasted a "ripper" bill introduced in the general assembly as an attempt "to subject our schools to direct political control."

The bill, which was dumped into the hopper during the week, would authorize the Governor to appoint the state superintendent of schools and directors of five other key state departments.

All the agency heads affected are presently appointed by their respective boards or commissions.

Mrs. Bull said the proposal—introduced by Del. Elbert Buckel, D-Garrett, and four other House members—confirmed the fears of parents that political moves are being made in the direction of the schools.

"It is difficult for us to believe that the governor of Maryland would be a party to such an unprecedented dangerous, and radical proposal," Mrs. Bull said. She said the Maryland Congress had called upon the governor to oppose the measure.

Gov. Tawes emphatically disavowed any connection with the bill and said earlier this week he has always been against all legislation designed to remove an incumbent from office.

Mrs. Bull said parents had become concerned over attempts to convert Frostburg State Teachers College into a branch of the University of Maryland.

"If in the heat of a legislative session a state institution such as Frostburg State Teachers College can suddenly be reassigned to another state board, then nothing is sacred in our public school system," she said.

Jody Warner Signed On Spot For 'Family'

The calm, collected approach to a situation prescribed by the pundits, is not always the answer as in the case of Jody Warner who won her leading role in the new series, "One Happy Family," by being anything but organized.

The lovely blue-eyed redhead, pretty as Marilyn Monroe, can credit her first television break to a zany quality which has served to charm and confuse.

Sid Dorfman and Al Lewis who direct and produce "One Happy Family," signed her to play Penny Cooper, the bride in the series, right on the spot.

Her co-stars, Elizabeth Fraser and Cheerio Meredith, represent three generations of lovelies.

"Jody was our dreamed-up girl," Dorfman beamed. "The minute she walked into the office there was no doubt in my mind that we had found Penny Cooper."

Dorfman went on to explain that he and Al Lewis had been looking for a Gracie Allen type. Not specifically but on the general order. "After the amenities were over," Dorfman continued, "I asked her what she had done."

"Oh, lots of things," she said shyly. "I've sold insurance, ran a dress shop, traveled a lot. I've made some commercials and," she looked to her agent for help, "Oh yes, I played in eight of the George Burns Shows."

With that, Dorfman signed her —not because of the Burns Shows but because of her scattered approach and projection.

HAPPY FAMILY—Jody Warner, Elizabeth Fraser and Cheerio Meredith (top to bottom).

Star Declined Cage Offers

Dee Pollock, the young and athletic 'outsider' Billy Urchin on the new "Gunslinger" series, turned down many offers of basketball scholarships from major colleges and universities for show-business success.

Pollock was born September 24, 1937. At the age of eight he began acting at the Pasadena Playhouse. While at Mark Keppel High School in Alhambra, Calif., he was active in theatre and a star on the school's basketball team. Also in high school, and later attending Los Angeles City College, he appeared in such pictures as "The Blue Veil," "Days Without End," "The Wayward Bus," and "Carousel."

After a hitch in the Army, Pollock resumed his acting in motion pictures — "The Plunderers," "Legend of Tom Dooley" and "Take A Giant Step" — and in numerous television roles.

Pollock lists his greatest thrill as the time he made his first jump as a free-fall sky diver. "My first jump was just great," he says, "but once was enough."

He is single and lives with his parents and three sisters in Alhambra.

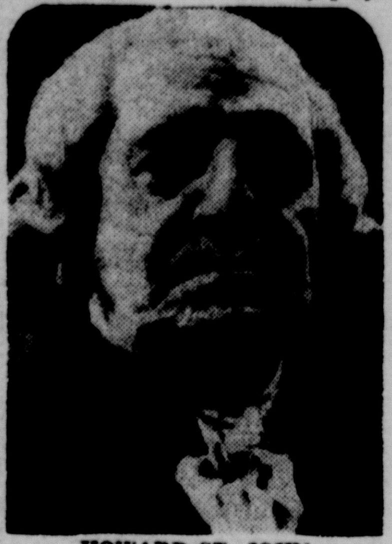
Actor Becomes Mine Of Facts On Washington

NEW YORK (NEA) — Being George Washington professionally is something of a responsibility for an actor.

Howard St. John will play Washington for the third time on "Our American Heritage," March 11. Because of his two previous portrayals, he has refused to accept the part in a Broadway play.



HOWARD ST. JOHN

"I turned it down," says St. John. "It would have painted a distorted picture of Washington—mean, bad-tempered, always sniffling with a cold. I don't think that's a true picture of the man."

St. John had not been an avid student of Washington until he began playing the part. Since then he has become a mine of odd facts about the first president.

"He was a lousy general. During the French and Indian War, he built a fort in the middle of a valley, surrounded by hills from which the French could bombard it.

"He would have been a great basketball player. He was 6'2", and he had tremendous hands.

He gives credit for getting the part to the fact that his nose was broken three times. Those injuries helped form a nose which make a director think he'd make a Washington.

Jody Warner Signed On Spot For 'Family'

The calm, collected approach to a situation prescribed by the pundits, is not always the answer as in the case of Jody Warner who won her leading role in the new series, "One Happy Family," by being anything but organized.

HAPPY FAMILY—Jody Warner, Elizabeth Fraser and Cheerio Meredith (top to bottom).

The lovely blue-eyed redhead, pretty as Marilyn Monroe, can credit her first television break to a zany quality which has served to charm and confuse.

Sid Dorfman and Al Lewis who direct and produce "One Happy Family," signed her to play Penny Cooper, the bride in the series, right on the spot.

Her co-stars, Elizabeth Fraser and Cheerio Meredith, represent three generations of lovelies.

"Jody was our dreamed-up girl," Dorfman beamed. "The minute she walked into the office there was no doubt in my mind that we had found Penny Cooper."

Dorfman went on to explain that he and Al Lewis had been looking for a Gracie Allen type. Not specifically but on the general order. "After the amenities were over," Dorfman continued, "I asked her what she had done."

"Oh, lots of things," she said shyly. "I've sold insurance, ran a dress shop, traveled a lot. I've made some commercials and," she looked to her agent for help, "Oh yes, I played in eight of the George Burns Shows."

With that, Dorfman signed her—not because of the Burns Shows but because of her scattered approach and projection.

Star Declined Cage Offers

Dee Pollock, the young and athletic 'outsider' Billy Urchin on the new "Gunslinger" series, turned down many offers of basketball scholarships from major colleges and universities for show-business success.

Pollock was born September 24, 1937. At the age of eight he began acting at the Pasadena Playhouse. While at Mark Keppel High School in Alhambra, Calif., he was active in theatre and a star on the school's basketball team. Also in high school, and later attending Los Angeles City College, he appeared in such pictures as "The Blue Veil," "Days Without End," "The Wayward Bus," and "Carousel."

After a hitch in the Army, Pollock resumed his acting in motion pictures — "The Plunderers," "Legend of Tom Dooley" and "Take A Giant Step" — and in numerous television roles.

Pollock lists his greatest thrill as the time he made his first jump as a free-fall sky diver. "My first jump was just great," he says, "but once was enough."

He is single and lives with his parents and three sisters in Alhambra.
